Long-Term Guide For San Rafael's Growth Outlined

Two Experts Predict Population Reaching Ultimate Of 140,000

Members of the city council and two commissions last night heard an outline of a general plan for San Rafael's growth to an ultimate population of 140,000—equal to the present population of Marin County.

Proposed guidelines for this growth were described by planners Dan Coleman and William Spangle, who are collaborating with the city staff on the San Rafael General Plan.

NATURAL BEAUTY

They touched on population densities, preservation of natural beauty, development of tidal areas, redevelopment of older areas and future highway, school and recreation needs.

Coleman and Spangle said the general plan would not have the effect of law, but is a long-term guide for development.

The purpose of last night's meeting, which was attended by three councilmen and members of the planning and parks and recreation commissions, was "to show you what our thinking has been and solicit your thoughts" so that the text of the plan may be prepared for further city study and public hearings, Coleman said.

Once adopted, the plan would be subject to annual review by the planning commission, which would report to the council on its progress. It would also be given a thorough examination every five years.

Coleman said he hopes the plan text can be completed in about a month.

TO THE RIDGE

The study area includes all foreseeable annexations. Coleman said it consists mainly of the San Rafael and Las Gallinas creek basins, extending west up Lucas Valley and up to the northerly ridge of the valley, which is the boundary of the Novato planning area.

Most of the flat areas have been developed, Coleman said. Remaining undeveloped areas, which lie mostly east of Highway 101, consists of marshes and tidelands, slope lands and "a few good flat pieces and ridge tops."

He suggested a "possible new kind of zone" to secure the most efficient use of the undeveloped slope land. He proposed "realistic slope densities" and concessions to developers who will cluster residential units on flatter land in order to preserve natural open areas.

In present new development, Coleman said, "they're doing the best they can," but he warned that "a lot of cutting is needed" to build conventional residential units with conventional street layouts.

'FINE QUARRY'

"The city can't buy the land to protect it," he said. "The people have a right to develop it."

But with conventional development, he said, "you might wind up with a very fine quarry right in the middle of town."

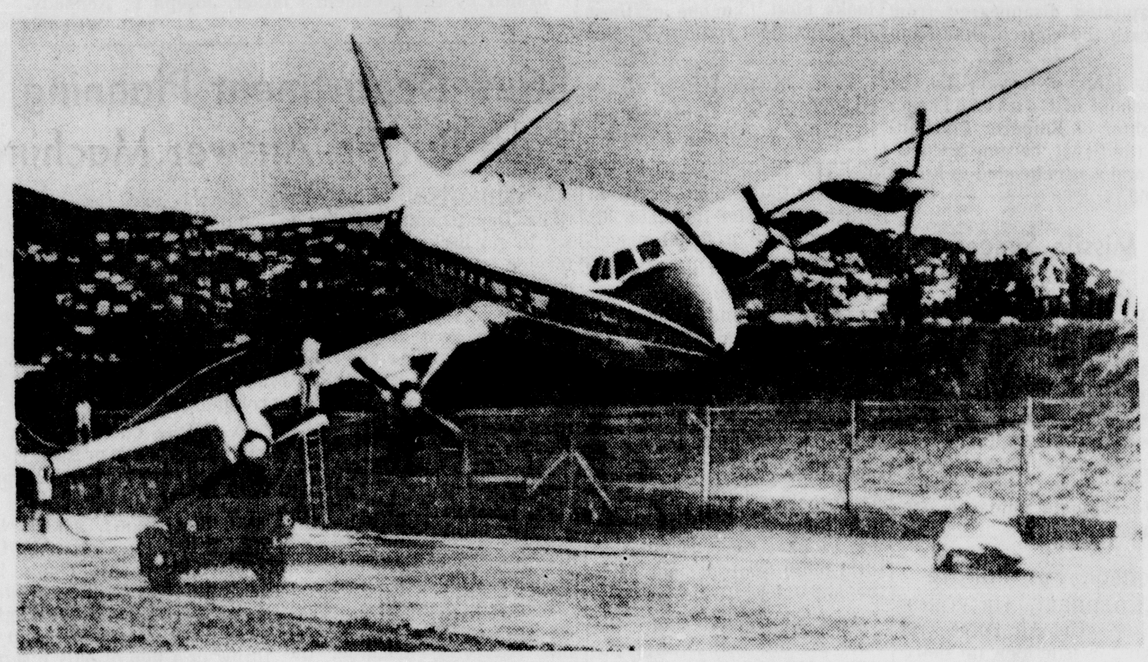

The most prominent undeveloped slope area, said Coleman, is the large hill on the San Pedro peninsula, which he called "the most striking feature" of San Rafael. By concentrating dwellings on ridges and in valleys, he estimated the city might preserve "a park of as much as 500 acres."

Open areas so created, he advised, should be dedicated to the city to "preclude the later temptation" to build on

NO ONE WAS HURT

Just within sight of the airport this plane didn't quite make it, but 37 passengers and a crew of four escaped injury. The unusual landing was made by a four-engine New Zealand National Airways Corp. Viscount airliner at Wellington Airport in New Zealand last week. The plane overshot a landing area and came to rest right side up on an incline.

U.S. Protesting Havana Firing On Shrimp Boat

American Fighters Chase Off MIG Jets

WASHINGTON (UPI)—MIG jet fighter planes from Cuba fired near, and perhaps at, a small American shrimp boat in the Florida Straits yesterday before U.S. jet fighters chased them off, the Pentagon said today.

President John F. Kennedy shortly afterward ordered U.S. armed forces to take "all necessary action" to prevent a repetition. The State Department fired off a strong diplomatic protest to the Cuban government and demanded a full explanation.

The Defense Department said the shrimper, which had been drifting for three days with engine trouble, was not hit and its two crewmen were not injured.

The announcement said only that the MIGs fired rockets "in the area" of the boat but a spokesman said they were "close" and the implication, bolstered by Kennedy's order, was that the planes fired at the shrimper.

The White House said the United States "will expect a full explanation from Cuba" and said "orders have been given to the armed forces to take all necessary action against any repetition of such an attack."

Immediate congressional reaction on the latest Cuban incident was that of indignation. The Senate foreign relations committee called a special mid-afternoon meeting to consider the incident. Speaker John McCormack called it an act of aggression.

U. S. STATEMENT

The announcement said the boat was fired on about 5:30 p. m. yesterday. The White House statement said:

"A strong protest has been sent forward through diplomatic channels against the attack by Cuban aircraft on an unarmed American fishing vessel. The United States government will expect a full explanation from Cuba."

The U.S. note was transmitted to the Swiss government which is representing this country in Cuba during the break in diplomatic relations between Cuba and the U.S.

The Swiss were to deliver the message to the Cuban government in Havana.

AIRCRAFT CONTACT

The Pentagon's statement said "The MIG fighters left the area of the shrimp boat when contacted by U.S. aircraft dispatched by the Air Defense Command in Southern Florida."

It was understood that the department avoided saying that the boat was fired at only because, since it was not hit, this would be difficult to prove in an international forum.

The boat was identified as the shrimp boat Ala, operating out of Fort Myers, Fla.

The U.S. intercept planes were identified as F-4B jets from Marine Corps Fighter Squadron 513, operating out of Boca Chica Air Station, Key West.

Physician Says Castro Had Attack

A consulting physician disclosed this afternoon that Walter R. Castro of the Marin County Board of Supervisors suffered a heart attack.

The disclosure came shortly after 2 p.m. The physician said the evidence of the coronary seizure had just been established.

Castro collapsed yesterday while testifying in a condemnation trial in Marin Superior court. He was rushed to San Rafael General Hospital where it was first reported that he had suffered only a fainting spell.

The consulting physician said Castro's attack was a mild one and that his condition is not critical.

County Supervisors Will Meet Tuesday

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will meet next Tuesday as usual despite collapse yesterday of Chairman Walter R. Castro.

Betancourt In N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt arrived today for a two-day round of honors in the city where he once spent time in exile.

End Not In Sight For Hikes

With a three-day holiday approaching, they'll be off and walking again on 50-mile courses.

College of Marin sophomore track star John Aylwin, 19, of Greenbrae, who finished fifth in the famed Redwood High School 50-mile hike Feb. 11, will lead more than 40 fellow students over the same course tomorrow.

PACK ON BACK

Aylwin, who plans to carry a 25-pound pack on his back, hopes to better his previous time of 12 hours and 30 minues on the course to Point Reyes Station, Nicasio Dam and back again.

The college students will leave at 5 a.m. from the Redwood High School parking lot. Aylwin, who runs the 440 and 880 yard races, said today that 40 students had already signed up to join him.

Twenty-three Marin Catholic High School sophomores, led by Shamus O'Connell, 15, Brian Tobin, 15, and Lou Lencioni, 16, will leave at 4 a.m. tomorrow from St. Anselm's Church to walk the 50 miles beyond Point Reyes Station and back along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

STUDENTS, DOGS

The students are hoping to make the trip in 14 hours.

Fifteen dogs and their masters will leave the Corte Madera Shopping Center tomorrow at 5 a.m. and attempt to make it to Petaluma within the 20 hours specified in President John F. Kennedy's challenge to Marine Corps officers.

Some of the Redwood High School students, who began the craze with a mass hike, apparently had washed their hands

McINNIS WILL RUN FOR FOURTH TERM

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis, 49, today became the first announced candidate in the April 8 city election for the post he has held for the last six years.

In announcing his candidacy, McInnis, who was first elected to the city council in 1953, offered a three-point program:

1. A sincere interest in aiding Fourth Street merchants to acquire additional off-street parking.
2. A long standing interest to develop a modern and adequate city hall at the council-selected site on Fifth Avenue.
3. The desirability of bringing reconstruction of Highway 101 into the pattern approved by the city council.

McInnis is serving his third two-year term as mayor. In his election to the city council in 1953, McInnis placed second highest in a field of five candidates.

McInnis, an insurance broker, lives at 30 Dumfries Terrace with his wife and two children. He maintains offices in the Masonic Building in San Rafael.

JOHN F. McINNIS

McInnis is a former president of the Bret Harte Civic Assn. and San Rafael Optimist Club, a member of the Marin Toastmasters Club 890 and Marin Masonic Lodge and head of the Marin Executive Delegation to the Soviet Union last year.

$1.75-Billion Feather River Bond Act Upheld By Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The State Supreme Court today upheld the constitutionality of the 1.75-billion-dollar bond act creating the Feather River water project.

The suit asked the court to determine the constitutionality and legality of the bonds, which were voted Nov. 8, 1960. It was brought by the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California.

The district asked the court to order James J. Marquardt, executive secretary of the district, to carry out a contract with the Department of Water Resources to supply the district with 1.5 million acre feet of water a year from Northern California.

In a 61-page unanimous opinion written by Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson, the court ordered Marquardt to make the contract.

The terms of the contract have been attacked by several of the state's agricultural areas on the grounds that if it stood as a model, urban areas would be favored over agricultural sections.

The decision said that while the legislature did not intend to give agricultural users preferential treatment, it did not exclude the farm area users from benefits of the project since the state may "grant preferential rates to such users."

Reduced Span Fare Proposed

Golden Gate Bridge directors aren't as dead set against reductions in bridge tolls as they appeared to be last week.

At today's meeting of the bridge board, Dan London, San Francisco director, proposed a new "reduced commute fare in off-peak hours" so that "we get better use of the bridge."

Without mentioning any proposed rates, he asked that a traffic survey be conducted to determine the effect of such a ticket and just what hours it could be used.

"Aren't we discriminating there?" asked Joseph Diviny of San Francisco.

President Ben K. Lerer referred the plan to the Finance Committee for a report on effects, and to the bridge attorney to check its legality.

Marin directors were unhappy that they'd been widely quoted as finding "no public sentiment" for toll reduction. Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato said their attitude was that major expenditures loom, including the possible operation of buses by the bridge, and that any new reduced toll would attract more traffic and add to congestion.

Holiday For Most Tomorrow

Washington's Birthday a legal holiday, will be generally observed throughout Marin County tomorrow with some exceptions.

Schools, and bank and government offices will be closed, many smaller firms likewise observing the holiday.

But the bigger stores in San Rafael plan to keep open. The Independent-Journal will publish as usual.

You may park before meters without putting coins in slots except in Sausalito.

Sausalito Bomb Scare

Sausalito police evacuated all students from Richardson Bay School shortly before noon today after someone had telephoned the school saying "There has been a bomb planted in your school." It was the second bomb scare within nine days, the children being sent home at noon on Abraham Lincoln's Birthday.

Jury Rules DeKaplany Is Sane

SAN JOSE (AP) — A Superior Court jury today ruled that Dr. Geza deKaplany was sane at the time he tortured his wife to death with acid Aug. 28.

DeKaplany, a Hungarian refugee physician, had pleaded guilty to the torture from which his wife died 32 days later. He pleaded innocent, however, on grounds of insanity.

The jury of 10 men and two women deliberated 9 hours and 15 minutes before reaching the verdict that the doctor was sane at the time of the attack.

Superior Court Judge Raymond G. Callahan set Monday for beginning the third phase of the trial—determination by the same jury of the sentence, which could be death in the gas chamber.

DeKaplany received the verdict calmly, the same demeanor he maintained throughout the trial that opened Jan. 7, with the exception of two outbursts when pictures of his dead bride's body were shown in court.

Death In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Police said today unidentified terrorists stabbed and killed Fred Plumley, about 65, formerly of San Francisco, and Philip Bennett, Jr., 24, his roommate.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Hijacked Ship Heads For Brazil

BELEM, Brazil (AP) — The hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui and its pro-Communist captors headed for Belem separately today, in Brazilian custody. The ship is on its way back to Venezuela and the hijackers hope for political asylum in Brazil.

A foreign office spokesman predicted asylum will be granted to the nine terrorists who seized the freighter at sea and sailed it to Brazil before surrendering. In Venezuela they would face trial and possible 10 to 15-year prison terms.

Fines Aid Training

NAPA (AP) — Lawbreakers' fines have contributed to additional training for 3,221 California police officers in the past two years, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk said today.

Mosk reported on the first two years of operation of the Commission for Peace Officers Standards and Training.

Onassis 'Makes Offer'

LONDON (UPI) — Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis has offered his controlling interest in the gambling casino at Monte Carlo to Prince Rainier of Monaco, the Daily Express said today, so the prince's position would be stronger in face of tax pressure from France.

Search For Survivors

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—An unidentified flare and flotsam lettered "Sulphur Queen" stimulated a search south of Key West today for traces and possible survivors of a freighter that vanished after sailing Feb. 2 with 39 men aboard.

The flare was seen last night in the Straits of Florida, between Key West and Cuba. The Coast Guard had no assurance that the light had anything to do with the 523-foot ocean vessel—or with a private plane that disappeared yesterday.

A patrol boat checked out the flare and reported it found nothing.

Negroes Jailed

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Two meetings between city officials and a lawyer for a movie house have failed to open the theater doors to Negroes.

But the doors of the city jail have opened again to admit 74 anti-segregation pickets, arrested last night in the sixth straight day of demonstrations at the Northwood Theater.

More than 400 students — most of them Negroes from nearby Morgan State College—have been jailed since the demonstrations began last Friday.

A spokesman for the Civic Interest Group, a local civil rights organization responsible for the demonstrations, said the picketing will continue until the theater is opened to the general public.

Excitement Over Queen

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — More than 100 children fainted or collapsed from the heat and excitement today while waiting two hours for the arrival of Queen Elizabeth II at Elizabeth Township.

The queen unveiled a fountain commemorating the naming of the township after her.

Bones Returned

GENOA, Italy (AP)—The bones of a fourth century Roman Catholic saint were returned to the Church of Santa Maria Della Sanita yesterday after thieves stole the coffin, apparently thinking they would find gold and jewels inside.

The coffin of St. John the Decapitated disappeared from beneath the church altar Monday.

St. John, a servant in the household of Constantina, daughter of Emperor Constantine the Great, became a Christian and was beheaded in Rome in 363.

Missile Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A Minuteman missile has flown a relatively short 1,400 miles in a successful test of its guidance system.

The intercontinental range rocket is capable of reaching more than 5,000 miles, but on last night's shot it was aimed over the shorter course in order to evaluate guidance performance.

Reason For Failure

VANDERBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—The Air Force says a Titan 2 missile blew up shortly after launch Saturday because power lines between it and the ground failed to separate properly.

The missile, first of its kind launched from an underground silo, blew up at 18,000 feet over Vanderberg Test Site.

Balloting Machine Is Shown

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The professor put his briefcase on the table, opened it up and pulled out the voting machine.

Obviously, the new, compact voting device demonstrated to the Assembly Elections and Reapportionment Committee yesterday is no ordinary machine.

It doesn't hum, clank, cost a thousand dollars or weigh a ton. It has no levers and doesn't have any plugs to plug in. It weighs less than five pounds, is 12 by 15 inches in size and looks most like one of those magic slates youngsters play with.

Prof. Joseph Harris of the University of California at Berkeley, one of the machine's co-inventors, said the key to the device is the computer card on which the voter punches his decision with a metal pencil.

The cards, which really are the ballots, are then run through any standard electronic computer at a rate of 800 a minute or more to get the vote total.

Committee chairman Don A. Allen Sr. (D-Los Angeles), said one such machine, if it works like the professors claim, would have enabled the 79,000 votes cast in his district last November to have been counted in little more than an hour after the polls closed.

And, he pointed out, the more machines, the faster the count. Allen said the combination of the simplified voting machine and the computers, which many counties already have, would mean tremendous savings in salaries, storage and transportation over the larger machines now used.

FIRST LADY CHANGES AIDES

Nancy Tuckerman (left), a New York travel agent, will become Mrs. John F. Kennedy's White House social secretary June 1. Miss Tuckerman, a former classmate of Mrs. Kennedy at a Farmington, Conn., finishing school, will replace Letitia Baldridge who is resigning. Miss Baldridge will become head of a project of a Chicago enterprise owned by the president's father, Joseph P. Kennedy.

State Department Planning Push-Button Answer Machine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is going to try to get background help on foreign affairs questions by push button.

Given a go-ahead by Secretary Dean Rusk after a visit to a Pentagon computer center last summer, the department's electronic answering system is slated to swing into operation on an experimental basis during the fiscal year that begins July 1.

So reports the latest State Department news letter, a publication distributed to U. S. diplomats.

Successful demonstrations by the new information storing and retrieving machine, the newsletter said, points toward creation of "a system of mechanized support for researchers, desk officers, policy planners and decision makers who daily depend on substantive information and who frequently need it in a hurry."

Here's how the system is supposed to work:

Researchers comb through the department's voluminous stacks of political, military, economic, geographic, biographic and what-not information and decide what is important enough to be stored on the computer's memory tape.

A simple question such as "What are the expressed views of Mr. X on subject Y?" produces a simple answer.

But questions asked too broadly can cause trouble, the newsletter warns. That's because the electronic selector, trying to cover all the angles on a fuzzy query, will tend to throw in a pile of only distantly related information.

Senator Denies Race Issue In Powell Tiff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell has accused Sen. John J. Williams of racial bias. But Williams says how government money is spent—not race—is the issue in his attack on the Negro congressman.

Powell accused Williams (R-Del.) at a news conference yesterday of following "the Hitler concept" in purchasing property that the New York Democrat said is under a restriction limiting resale to "Aryans."

The senator swung back at Powell last night. "I never have and never will refer to any man's race, religion or nationality in discussing a case on the Senate floor or off it," Williams told a newsman.

In his session with newsmen, Powell said Williams has voted consistently against civil rights. He also distributed an excerpt from a property deed to a house Powell said Williams bought in 1952 in Rehobeth Beach, Del.

According to the excerpt, the deed contained a restriction against the sale or leasing of the property "to any person not of the Aryan Nordic race."

Reached last night at his home, Williams said he bought the property in 1952, still lives there and has no intention of leaving. He said he has never examined the deed and has no idea if it contains a restriction.

But even if it does, Williams said, it would have no effect because the Supreme Court outlawed such provisions.

Plan On Aged Before Congress Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy put his battered plans for health care of the elderly into new wrappings today—part of a 10-billion-dollar, five-year plan aimed to better life, income and housing for senior Americans.

But it was bound to be old hat to Congress.

Besides the expected, and once-defeated, proposals for hospital insurance for the aged through Social Security, the president asked again for tax benefits for the elderly, part of his tax message last month.

The hospital insurance plan is expected to cost 5.6-billion dollars for the first four years, the tax benefits 3.9-billion dollars for the first five years.

Thus, in this special message on problems of the aging—the first ever by an American president—the two biggest money items and all but a fraction of the total money package are quite familiar.

But, in addition, the president called for:

More money for low interest loans to build rental housing for elderly persons of moderate income.

New emphasis on building group residences for the elderly.

More jobs for those past retirement age that want to work.

In all, the president recommended 36 ways to better the lot of senior citizens.

It was basically the same as a bill stymied by Congress last year. And it did nothing to bend to previous objections of the American Medical Assn. to any plan financed solely by Social Security.

Nor is there room in the new bill for private or voluntary health insurance plans to get into the picture, except as additional insurance.

Last year's administration bill—almost a twin to this year's—died in the hands of the House Ways and Means Committee. An attempt to move it through the Senate as an amendment to a welfare bill was defeated.

The basic change this year is an option in benefits for insured persons. The prime benefits still provide for up to 90 days of paid hospital care after the insured patient has paid the first $20 to $90.

But the new bill allows two options, providing the insured elderly person chooses the option immediately before his 65th birthday. Once made, the choice cannot be changed.

The insured may choose to get 180 days of paid care, after first paying two and one-half days himself. Or he may choose to get 45 days of paid care without paying for any part of it. If he makes neither choice, he gets the basic 90-day provision of the bill.

As in the earlier bill, the cost of the medical care would be borne largely by a boost in Social Security taxes. It would mean a maximum of $13 a year for each employee, and a like sum for his employer. It amounts to one-fourth of 1 per cent for the first $5,200 of the employee's income.

There are now, the president said, 17.5 million Americans aged 65 or older—and that number will swell to 25 million by 1980.

Nearly 6 million Americans are 75 or older, and more than 10,000 are over the age of 100, he added.

"Our national record in providing for our aged is a proud and hopeful one," he stated. "But it can and must improve."

"Our aged have not been singled out in this special message to segregate them from other citizens," he concluded.

them if the land is left in private ownership.

Chairman Carl J. Brown and others on the park and recreation commission said they wanted some flat areas left for parks rather than all "goat land."

Coleman and Spangle envisioned expensive, high return development on waterfront areas. Coleman said the city, in order not to have "a complete mass of fill," should consider requiring that as much as 25 per cent" of tidal lands be left in water areas. More rigid fill requirements also are needed, he said. Drainage canals should be developed for boating use as well, and dredge soil should be used to create islands.

The city should recognize that another north-south highway will be needed, Coleman said. He suggested a perimeter route, commencing at San Quentin Point and skirting close to the water, but about 200 to 300 feet back from it. Major bridges would carry the highway over the inlets at San Quentin Point, San Rafael Bay and Gallinas Bay at McNear's beach.

Instead of a road crossing San Rafael Canal at Bellam Boulevard, Coleman proposed one looping eastward and crossing to Paganini Point.

Two major east-west highways are needed — one going through San Anselmo and Fairfax and the other out Lucas Valley, he said.

For old areas which need redevelopment, Coleman and Spangle said as much as 75 per cent federal money could be obtained. Coleman said they did not intend to "downgrade any area" in their plan, but he cited Bret Harte and Francisco Boulevard as areas which need improvements.

Major industrial areas were envisioned in the northeast section, under the Hamilton Air Force Base flight pattern; along Francisco Boulevard, and north of the freeway near San Quentin.

Mill Valleyan Is Linked To $1,100 Theft

San Francisco police have placed a hold on former Mill Valley resident, Maurice Joseph O'Connor, 27, after Corte Madera police reportedly linked him with a $1,100 holdup of Macy's Department Store in San Francisco Aug. 16.

The action came after fingerprints found on a holdup note given to cashier Daphne Rand matched O'Connor's fingerprints, Inspector Harold N. Hockett of the Corte Madera police department said.

Corte Madera police got into the case while investigating a worthless check charge against O'Connor's wife, Sharon Ann, arrested by the department Feb. 13. Corte Madera and Mill Valley police went to the O'Connor's former home Monday where they found a duplicate of a Macy's holdup note saying, "Hand me money. I have gune."

Both the duplicate and the original spelled "gun" the same way, Hockett said. This find prompted police to check prints on the original note against O'Connor's prints.

O'Connor, convicted last April 7 of another San Francisco burglary, drew a suspended six-month jail sentence, a $250 fine and two years of probation.

Meanwhile, both O'Connors appeared in Santa Clara County Superior Court and pleaded guilty to passing forged checks there. They are in jail there today.

Also since Mrs. O'Connor's arrest in Marin last Feb. 13, forged and worthless checks totaling more than $300 were passed by the pair in Mill Valley, Corte Madera and Larkspur, said Hockett.

Mrs. O'Connor has pleaded innocent to the Corte Madera charge against her and faces preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court March 4.

Almonte Club Asks Bagley Bill Delay

Almonte Improvement Club directors last night agreed to ask Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) to extend the time limit in his proposed "surplus" lands bill from 120 days to six months or a year.

Bagley's bill provides that water districts must offer to sell surplus lands to state, county or city before disposing of them in another manner. It gives 120 days for the civic bodies to sign an agreement and a firm commitment to buy. The club said the 120 days is insufficient time for citizenry to issue bonds for purchasing lands for public use.

Directors, according to Mrs. John J. DeMartini, secretary, have invited representatives of all youth groups interested in using Almonte Clubhouse next year to meet at 8 p.m., March 20 at the clubhouse.

They also announced they are investigating a possible addition or remodeling of the clubhouse to gain needed room.

Price Hall Is Elected Assembly Aides' Officer

Girls Battered With Hammer, Buried Alive

TOOELE, Utah (AP)—Two Salt Lake City girls were battered with a hammer and buried alive under desert brush yesterday. Officers say a 19-year-old part-time dishwasher has admitted the crime.

The girls, Carol Annette Clayton and Drinda Jane Atnes, both 18, were rescued after a companion, Tony Robertson, 19, ran and walked 14 miles to the nearest telephone and got help. The girls were hospitalized and both were in critical condition.

Sheriff Faye Gillette said Rex Hintze of Salt Lake City admitted beating the girls after his car became stuck on a muddy road near the Great Salt Lake and the girls started walking home. He was booked on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

"He didn't seem to know why he did it," the sheriff said, "he just got mad at them for leaving."

Robertson, a friend of Hintze's, said he was in the car and didn't know about the beatings "until he (Hintze) asked me to help him hide the bodies."

Robertson, also of Salt Lake City, said he thought the girls were dead. He said he edged away from Hintze, saying he wanted to see if anybody was watching, then started running.

Sheriff Gillette said Hintze told him he covered both girls with brush, and when one started kicking, "he said he put some rocks and a big piece of iron on her. The sheriff said Hintze believed the girls would not live.

"If the girls do live, they'll owe their lives to that boy who ran 14 miles for help," Gillette said.

A waitress in a cafe on U.S. Highway 40 said Robertson stumbled in exhausted and scared, saying, "There's two dead girls back there."

When officers reached the scene they didn't see anyone. "Then we heard some moaning," the sheriff said. "At first I thought it was a calf that had lost its mother." It was Miss Clayton. Miss Atnes was found 50 yards away.

Sheriff Gillette said officers found Hintze near his car on the other side of a small hill from where the girls were found. The sheriff said he didn't resist.

Three employees of the Corte Madera Branch of the Crocker-Anglo National Bank and six children will start on a 50-mile hike at 5 a.m. tomorrow from Marinwood. They will go out Lucas Valley Road to Point Reyes Station and return via Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Asst. Mga. John Buckley, 38, said his three sons, Barry, 11, John, 8, and Robert, 7, will accompany him. Mrs. Betty Crawford, a teller, will have her son, and Al Rogers, operations supervisor at the bank, will have his two sons with him.

Novato Girl Drives Auto Into Tree

A Novato girl suffered a cut chin last night when she drove an automobile off the highway and into a tree.

Carrie D. Kone, 17, of 60 Crescent Court, a Novato High School student, northbound on Wilson Avenue at 8:05 p.m., halted at a Vineyard Road stop sign and immediately after proceeding let the car drift off the road. She braked hard, skidded and slid into a tree.

She was treated at Novato General Hospital. Two companions, Erma Johnson, 17, of 577 Lewis Drive, and Mary Borba, 18, of 679 Olive Avenue, were examined and released.

The California Highway Patrol cited Miss Kone for not having a valid driver's license.

Anselmo said that the report was that they had found no public support at a particular meeting, not from the public in general.

"I favor a 10-cent toll right now," Murphy said, "and I think that a great majority of bridge users favor a cut. But pending determination of possible expenditures we should not do it right now."

Diviny said "the people I represent certainly are interested in a cut" and William Moskovitz of San Francisco declared "I favor toll reduction very much."

San Francisco director Alvin F. Derre wasn't happy that his proposal for a $3 price for a 20-trip commute book good for 60 days was sidetracked in committee. He said that his book, designed for people making weekend vacation trips would be for 60 days from the date of sale, not the two calendar months of the present commute ticket.

The directors sent back to the Finance Committee for further study a plan to have the traffic engineer summarize the cost of various pending projects, at a fee of $4,200.

San Rafael Firemen Rescue Boy On Cliff

San Rafael firemen yesterday rescued a 9-year-old boy who was stranded on a cliff at the end of Dominican Drive.

The boy was identified as Steve Pederle. Firemen said he had climbed up the cliff to a point where he couldn't go up or down. They put up a 26-foot ladder so he could climb down.

Iva Kroeger Returned To Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A docile Iva Kroeger returned today to her double murder trial which she has repeatedly broken up with violent outbursts.

Superior Judge Harry J. Neubarth said he wouldn't again call off a court session as he did yesterday when the 44-year-old grandmother was carried from the trial room for the second time this week. The judge said in the future she would be brought back again immediately.

"The only way to stop these disturbances," Neubarth said, "is for her to realize they won't do her any good."

Doctors at San Francisco Hospital where Mrs. Kroeger was taken after a courtroom paper throwing and fainting fit informed the judge they found nothing physically wrong with her except the effects of a "self-induced hysterical attack."

Mrs. Kroeger was flanked by two matrons today. She sat complaining quietly as her husband and co-defendant, Ralph resumed the stand for cross-examination.

$1,000 In Gems, Clothing Stolen

Jewelry and clothing valued at $1,000 were reported to have been stolen from the Mill Valley apartment of Ray O'Brien at 266 Miller Avenue, police said today.

Entry was made through an open bathroom window of the apartment, Apt. 3, sometime between 4.45 p.m. Tuesday and 2:30 a.m. yesterday.

The loot included a black leather jewel box containing five sets of cuff links; three rings, two of gold and one of jade with a gold setting; three tie bars. Also reported taken was a jade statue, three sweaters, a black leather sport coat and a pair of black leather boots.

Answer Offered To Digit Dialing

Pulse code modulation breakthrough and the use of the numeral "1" before telephone prefexes will give the Pacific Telephone Co. all the combinations it need for years to come, Dr. Jack Block told members of the Anti-Digit Dialing League today in Sausalito.

Block, a board of director for the league, reported from an official manual of the telephone company, he said.

Pulse code modulation breakthrough, is a multiplexing of signals on a wire, he added. It permits one wire to carry a large number of conversations. The telephone company has declared it needs to use all numeral dialing in order to get more combinations.

School Board Endorses Tax Rate

Trustees of the Lagunitas School District Tuesday night endorsed a proposed continuation of the Tamalpais Union High School District's $1.90 operating tax rate, which is to be voted on in the April 16 election.

Supt. Clifford Frye said the board also heard a report that a proposed bell and light disaster warning system, connected with the state disaster office, has been approved. The district would pay half and the federal government the other half of a $125 installation charge and monthly maintenance cost of $5.25.

The board's next meeting will be on March 5.

Bridge Unit Balks At Expense Bill

Golden Gate Bridge directors balked today at paying a $992.36 expense account bill of their legislative lobbyist in Sacramento.

Members of the auditing committee objected to the fact that the lobbyist Gordon Gorland submitted a bill for $2,835 and assigned 35 per cent of that amount to the bridge district. Audiitng chairman Alvin F. Derre said "we want to know more about some of these things."

The bill included $937.69 for January hotel expenses, $233.50 for transportation, $323 for office supplies, and $284.78 cash. Gorland has two other clients beside the bridge district.

The auditing committee will meet jointly with the legislative committee on March 8 to discuss the bill. Meanwhile General Manager James Adam will write for more details.

$5,000 Horse Rescues Itself

An Arabian stallion, valued at $5,000, beat Nicassio Volunteer Firemen to the punch today when it rescued itself and was calmly grazing by the time firemen arrived.

The horse, El Tezar, owned by Mario Ghilotti of the Mar-Ghi Ranch, slipped off a fire trail behind the ranch house while being ridden by Ghilotti's son, John.

The horse slipped down through the washout and landed on his back. Young Ghilotti went for help. But by the time firemen arrived, the horse was calmly grazing. A pulled tendon was the only consequence of the accident.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location—at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael—is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

Mount Tamalpais CEMETERY

Mill Valley Will Keep Jet Plane

Mill Valley will keep and repair its disintegrating jet plane in Boyle Park, the city council decided unanimously last night.

Action was a reversal of a recommendation from the planning commission and architectural advisory committee that the plane be dumped due to esthetic reasons.

"I think maybe we should get two planes because the one is so popular," said Councilman William E. Secor, who made the motion to save the plane.

"I have heard nothing from parents. Most people like it," said Councilman Michael Wornum, himself a flyer in World War II. "I think we have an obligation," Councilman George D. Monardo stated.

Some of the plates on the plane have been removed and the plexiglass nose broken, according to City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants. However, Almcrants said a new nose cone has been built by Dill and Sederberg of Mill Valley which the park department will install. The city may also get "some real patching on the plane" through Hamilton Air Force Base, which donated the craft, and the 666th Radar Squadron atop Mount Tamalpais.

Protest letters were read from Mrs. William Garrett and Neil Davis. Davis saying the plane was all right for places such as San Rafael or Novato but "completely out of place in Mill Valley."

AWARD-WINNING MILL VALLEY HOME

This Mill Valley home of Virginia Green and Leila Johnston at 366 Summit Avenue has won a 1963 Award of Merit of the American Institute of Architects. It was one of 13 buildings in the United States to receive the merit award. Architects were Marquis and Stoller, San Francisco. Royston, Hanamoto, Mayes and Beck were landscape architects. Eric Elsesser was structural engineer, and Guy Baldwin was general contractor.

'Anniversary Waltz' Set For Novato

"Anniversary Waltz," hit comedy that played for months in New York and San Francisco, will be presented by the Fling section of the Novato Community Club at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday and repeated March 1 and 2 at the Novato Community House.

The plot hinges on a promise made by Mr. and Mrs. Bud Walters, played by Eric Kollgaard and Shari Leaf, not to have a television set in the house.

Mrs. Walters' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gans, are played by Joe Jacob and Paula Cermak. Teen-age daughter, Debbie, played by Sandy Consagra, shakes the household by appearing on television. Her brother, Okkie, is played by Bryant Talley.

Others in the cast include: Millie, the maid, Thelma Young; Chris Steelman, Bud's business partner, John Beser; Janice Revere, Vivienne Terry; Harry, a TV repairman, William Hints; Sam, a TV repairman, George McDaniel, and a handyman, Robert Young.

Paul Terry is producer-director. Set design is by Robert Henshillwood. The sets were constructed by Edward Hamann and the cast. Eric Kollgaard is in charge of the lighting and George McDaniel, of sound. Sally Geser and Robert Young are prompters.

Carpenter Training Director Is Named

Gordon A. Littman of Daly City has been named director of apprenticeship and training for Marin and three other Bay counties by the administrative board of the Bay Counties Carpenters Apprenticeship and Training Program, it was announced today.

Alfred Figone, business representative for Local Unions 35 and 1710 in Marin County, is one of the labor members of the board. The training program's offices are in San Francisco.

Purchase Of House For Teen Center Discussed By Mill Valley Council

Proposed purchase of the Ezekiel property by the City of Mill Valley was discussed by the city council last night but no action was taken. The home at 30 Corte Madera Avenue, north of the city hall, has been suggested as a possible teen-age facility.

City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants said more study is needed to determine how much money is available in parking meter money and to see if a lease purchase can be arranged.

"It wouldn't be feasible to use the property as a temporary teen-age facility if it is acquired by parking meter money," Almcrants explained. He said parking meter money must be used for parking—not for a teen facility. He added the parks and recreation commission is to discuss the proposed purchase at its work session Monday.

Councilmen adopted a resolution of intention to annex a three-acre parcel of land, the Edna Maguire School playground, and set March 20 for hearing. Reason for proposed annexation is that when the city set out to place equipment on the playground, City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said it could not be done since the playground was outside the city.

The council adopted a resolution to extend the North Ridge interim zoning, frozen at lot sizes from 20,000 to 10,000 square feet, for one year to April 19, 1964.

It heard from Councilman Michael Wornum that his committee's report on "B" streets would be submitted to council prior to March 6 and Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said a date would be set March 6 for the council to discuss the report.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Set March 20 for hearing on proposed changes in sizes of apartment zones.
2. Heard that an 180-foot extension of the sewer outfall line was to be installed today at the small craft harbor. Mayor Sheeks suggested people interested in the progress of the harbor drive up to Enchanted Knolls for a look. "It's very encouraging," said Sheeks.
3. Granted a use permit to allow Marin Nursery School use of the American Legion Hall subject to revocation on a year's notice.
4. Announced there will be a joint council-planning commission workshop to discuss possible changes to the zoning ordinance at 9 a.m., Saturday, March 2.
5. Directed Jordan to negotiate with the Alto Sanitary District attorney to allow connection of nine Vasco Drive lots with the city sewer line on paying city use fees of $175, the agreement not to be prejudiced on a future court decision.
6. Authorized expenditure of $272 to City Engineer Stanley M. Bala for engineering and surveying of the new library site.
7. Heard the Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce has plans to hold a golf tournament at the Municipal Golf Course, tentatively set for June 17-18.
8. Recommended to park and recreation commission that the Youth Activities Committee might include clearing of grass and brush from fire plugs in its proposed summer work program for youth.
9. Took no action on the encroachment agreement with G. C. Kott in connection with his bridge built over Cascade Creek in the "three w..s' park area.

Co-Op Apartment Loses Backing

Millionaire Robert B. Fraser, 42, said in San Francisco yesterday that his real estate corporation would reduce its participation in the Cote d'Azur, the posh co-operative apartment on the shore of Shelter Cove in Sausalito.

Fraser said he was "lessening" his participation in the Sausalito project and in Fontana West, a big apartment building at the foot of Russian Hill. He made the statement in answer to reports that he had spread his ventures too thin.

An added factor in the decision reportedly was that the market for co-operative apartments is falling off.

'Midnight In Rome' Redwood Prom Theme

"Midnight in Rome" has been selected as the theme for Redwood High School's Junior Prom to be held on April 20.

The prom is under the direction of Steve Page, junior class president. Other committee heads are: Barbara Dondero and Jennie Lyons, decorations; Dave Flowers, refreshments; Sue Chambers and Russell Wilkins, bids; Dave Tucker, publicity, and Ron Gaviatti, music and entertainment.

Lions love company. They live and hunt in groups and rarely kill except for food. Even in the bush, the big cats seldom attack man unless provoked.

Guard Railing Struck By Car

Sally Margaret Olsen, 21, of 742 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, a savings and loan association teller, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday morning for a cut over the left eye after her car collided with a Highway 101 guard rail.

The California Highway Patrol cited her for an unsafe turn.

Miss Olsen was southbound at 8:25 a.m., in the middle lane and seeking to get to the right lane and turn off to Marin City but finding it difficult because of heavy traffic.

Finally, she told the patrol, she cut over closely ahead of another car and was carried into the gore of the off-ramp so that her car rammed the guard rail.

Hilltop Dinery Opens Tonight

The Hilltop Restaurant in Novato is opening tonight under new management after being closed for three years.

Mrs. Peggy DeMars and Donald McLaughlin are new managers of the restaurant, which formerly was known as the Maison Marin at Highway 101 at Lamont Avenue.

The new owners are featuring semi-family style service. They also feature a cocktail lounge, fireplace, and piano for entertainment. It will open at 4 p.m. daily for evening dining.

The restaurant has been redecorated in modern style by Ted Duro of Sausalito. It has a spectacular view from the dining room.

Report On West Marin Flood Hazards Is Due Supervisors

A report will be given to Marin County supervisors next Tuesday by public works director Donald R. Frost on his findings about West Marin flood hazard in the Point Reyes Station-Inverness area, he said today.

Information to be divulged, according to Frost, came from personal investigation coupled with a meeting held at the Civic Center Tuesday morning with representatives of interested entities.

Frost said there was representation from the Corps of Army Engineers, the State Lands Commission, State Fish and Game Commission, Marin Municipal Water District, Marin County Soil Conservation District, and County Public Works Department.

"The public was not invited," said Frost. "We weren't trying to hold a public hearing and we wanted a technical discussion with people from the affected agencies."

But since the investigation was asked by board of supervisors on a basis of a letter from 10 West Marin residents, Frost drew complaints from some of them yesterday because they felt they should have been asked to attend.

Part of the annoyance evidently arose from the role of Waldo Giacomino, who had a dual character as president of the soil conservation district and as target of complaints that his dikes south of the bay obstructed rain runoff and promoted flooding.

Indications were for a big West Marin turnout at the supervisors' afternoon session next Tuesday.

Savings, Loan Chartering Halt Urged

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — The president of the California Savings and Loan League says the organization will make its own analysis of controversial proposals by a Stanford economics professor.

President John F. Marten urged delegates to a league management conference yesterday to remain calm in the meantime.

The professor, Edward S. Shaw, appeared before the delegates yesterday along with the man who asked Shaw to make his study, Preston N. Silbaugh, California Savings and Loan commissioner. Both men defended Shaw's report.

Shaw has suggested that the state virtually stop chartering new associations for a few years and restrict mergers of existing organizations.

He said the 16-billion-dollar savings and loan industry is characterized by excessive concentration of control and restraints on competition.

Marten said the league's study of Shaw's proposals should be completed within 60 days.

Marten told the delegates he has Gov. Edmund G. Brown's assurance the administration won't act on Shaw's proposals before consulting with the league.

Marten said he will appoint a three-man committee to meet with Silbaugh and the governor in an attempt to reach accord between the commissioner and the industry.

CASTRO IS DOING FINE, DUFFICY SAYS

Walter R. Castro, chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, was "doing fine" today in San Rafael General Hospital, according to his physician, Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy.

Dufficy, county physician, said Castro spent a good night. Castro, 67, collapsed a few minutes before noon yesterday on the witness stand in the Superior Court of Judge Thomas F. Keating, while testifying in a land condemnation suit.

Dufficy ruled out a heart attack as cause for the collapse and said that Castro "was a little exhausted, that's all." Castro would be held in the hospital for tests and rest for another day or two days, Dufficy said.

Beauty Salon To Open Monday

Coiffures in Color, a beauty salon, will be opened Monday in Mill Valley at 13 Bernard Street by owner Brock Stevens of Sausalito. He will be assisted by Valix Roy of San Francisco.

The salon will specialize in hair coloring but will do washing, setting, cutting and other hair care.

Stevens has worked as head hair colorist at Antoine's in New York's Saks Fifth Avenue, as assistant director of Seligman and Latz School of Hair Color, and was most recently director of a school of hair coloring of the Glenby Co., a cosmetic salon chain.

Postoffice Again Sought For Corte Madera Center

Owner Frank Rusalem again will seek approval for a new postoffice in the Corte Madera Center, it was learned today.

Three preceding plans by Rusalem have been rejected by the town council, the latest plan twice.

The new plans will be considered at a special meeting of the Corte Madera Town Board of Design at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the town hall. Secretary Elizabeth Long told the Independent-Journal.

The location in the southeast corner of the center would be approximately the same as for the plans rejected by the town council last Dec. 17 and Jan. 7, said building inspector William McBride. Under the new plans the southern boundary of two gas stations would be reduced to provide for a crosswalk to Madera Boulevard.

The council's repeated rejection of the latest plans by 2-to-2 votes upheld a 3-2 rejection by the planning commission. Planners objected to parking plans. The council contended the postoffice would aggravate traffic circulation problems in the center.

PEACEFUL SCENE? — Not so, say neighbors in the Ridge Way Crescent Road area of Corte Madera who claim this recently built patio where the baby is playing has blocked their hillside path and forced them to take a nine-block detour.

There's Misery On Corte Madera's Hillside Path

By FRED WYATT

One neighbor really was in "hot water" in the dispute over a 56-year-old Corte Madera hillside path that has been shut off by a brick patio and wooden fence built in a resident's sideyard five months ago.

Councilmen and Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow will inspect the path Saturday morning to decide how best to make it conveniently passable once more.

Bonne Berends of 122 Crescent Road was squirted with hot water by Gene Cravillion of 124 Crescent Road, the man who built the patio and fence, Berends told the Independent-Journal.

Another resident, Ralph White of 236 Morningside Drive, said the dispute has grown from "a minor complaint into a major rumble."

The path is an extension of Ridge Way easterly and uphill for about 210 feet from Crescent Road to Morningside Drive. It is situated in the Corte Madera woods section of Christmas Tree Hill.

"About 150 people are protesting the patio and fence that Cravillion built," Berends said. "I expect a number of them to gather Saturday to see what the councilmen say and do."

The patio was built by Berends' next door neighbor, Cravillion, late last August after he and his wife leased the home from Carl J. Kalb of Larkspur.

Since construction of the patio and fence the path has been diverted a number of feet northward and is narrowed to a two-foot width on slippery, uneven ground for about 20 feet — a passage which spry young children can negotiate but is difficult for full-sized adults, especially with bundles.

Residents report the nearest detour they can use takes them about nine blocks out of their way. Their attorney, E .A. Friend, asserts that since the path has been in use for more than one-half century it has become established as a public thoroughfare.

Brandow said the path was recorded as a public easement in 1907 but never was dedicated to the town. At the suggestion of Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis neighbors have given the town 15 deeds to make the easement permanent.

About 25 neighbors led by White petitioned the town council to take action last Sept. 4, but nothing has been done.

Berends said that since building their patio his neighbors can see into his bathroom and a patio in his yard. He said that one Saturday last October he began to dig postholes outside his own three foot high fence to make it higher.

He reported Cravillion three times that day drenched him with a garden hose "connected to the hot water tap in his kitchen."

Driver 'Asleep,' Car Hits Tree

Drowsiness after midnight caused a Novato driver to leave a road and run into a tree yesterday, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Michael Harold McCormick of 924 George Street, a carpenter, drove his sedan off Crest Drive a half-mile east of the Black Point cut-off at 12:30 a.m. and the car came to rest against a tree. A patrol report said McCormick evidently had fallen asleep.

The driver suffered minor cuts and bruises for which he said he would see his own doctor.

Marine Arrives

Marine First Lt. Robert M. Casey, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Casey of 129 Deer Hollow Road, Sleepy Hollow, has arrived in Okinawa aboard the transport General W. A. Mann with the Second Battalion, Seventh Marine Regiment, for a 13-month tour of duty with the Third Marine Division.

Quinn Walking Club To Meet Challenge

Forty persons have formed the Quinn Walking Club in the spirit of the 50-milers and will meet first on Sunday, March 3, at 11 a.m. with knapsacks on their backs.

The club, named after James Patrick Quinn, will commence their hike at Quinn's Tavern at 2 Corte Madera Avenue, Mill Valley, and head south toward Sausalito. Quinn, 76, said "We will hike to the end of the trail or as far as we can make it. Knapsacks are for provisions."

SMOG MEASURER—Cynthia Cohen, 13-year-old Davidson School student, uses photometer and wind direction meter in twice-daily check of air at the school. The figures she collects give the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District data on the amounts of smog over San Rafael and its source. (Independent-Journal photo)

Davidson Student, 13, Works On Side As A Pollution Detective

By PHIL FRADKIN

Twice a day a 13-year-old Davidson School student leaves her classroom, walks outside and points a small instrument, the size of a photographic light meter, once to the east in the morning and once to the west in the afternoon.

To Cynthia Cohen, daughter of Mrs. Adrian Scharlach of 20 Inverness Drive, San Rafael, the operation of a Voltz Photometer is old hat now.

She has been operating the photometer, along with a psychrometer and wind speed and direction instruments, for about two months for the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

The combination of instruments operated by Cynthia, an advanced eighth grade science student, furnishes information on the amount of dust in the air and its source.

Once a month, Cynthia sends the figures she has collected to the district office in San Francisco, where the desired information is worked out by mathematical formula.

The station that Cynthia operates is the first in the district working on a permanent basis. Other units are being used by the district, but only to take periodic readings.

Actually, Cynthia has four jobs in one. The photometer is used in the morning to measure the intensity of light coming from the east and in the afternoon to measure light coming from the west.

The difference between an optimum reading and a lower reading determines the amount of dust in the air. But Cynthia's job doesn't end here.

With a psychrometer, Cynthia measures the relative humidity at the same time she is using the photometer. This is to determine if there is fog in the air, which could cause a lower reading and be mistaken for dust particles.

Also, Cynthia measures the wind direction and speed to determine the source of the dust.

On top of all this, Cynthia makes an estimate of the cloud cover.

Hillsborough Mansion May Be 'Summer White House'

HILLSBOROUGH (AP)—Rep. J. Arthur Younger said Wednesday he would introduce a bill in Congress as soon as he returns to Washington to make Hillsborough's famed Carolands mansion the "summer White House."

The California Republican's announcement followed a report that a survey is being made in the Bay Area to find a suitable summer home for President John F. Kennedy.

Carolands is a huge, Georgian mansion with 96 rooms adjacent to Skyline Boulevard in the timbered coastal range west of Hillsborough. It was built in 1915 by Harriet Pullman Carolan Schermerhorn, daughter of George Pullman, the sleeping car magnate, at a cost then of 3.5 million dollars.

So large that it never has been fully occupied—in fact, some parts of it never have been completed—the elegant structure has elevators, a ballroom where as many as 500 guests have been entertained, gold doorknobs in some sections and is surrounded on two sides by a moat, now dry.

Carolands is about 20 miles south of San Francisco.

The owner, Countess Remillard Dandini, who lives in an apartment on the upper floor, said of Younger's proposal:

"I don't want to leave my home. I told the congressman I would have to go with it. I don't want to sell."

In 1947 Younger's predecessor, Jack Anderson, introduced a bill in Congress to make Carolands the summer White House. It failed to pass.

Bank Merger With Crocker Is Approved

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Directors of the Citizens National Bank in Los Angeles have approved a plan to merge with Crocker-Anglo National Bank.

The merger would be accomplished by an exchange of stock in the ratio of 1.9 shares of Crocker-Anglo for each share of Citizens National.

Announcement was made by chairman of the board Paul E. Hoover of Crocker-Anglo, and President Roy A. Britt of Citizens National.

"The proposed merger is an ideal one," they said, "since each of the banks is similar in outlook and complementary in coverage."

The merger would create an institution with assets approximating 3.2 billion dollars, making it the fourth largest bank in California and one of the 12 largest banks in the United States. It would serve more than a million depositors and employ approximately 7,500 persons.

The combined institution, to be named Crocker-Citizens National Bank, would operate about 200 banking offices.

Army CWO Honored Upon Retirement

Army CWO Edwin T. Gannon, 44, of 119 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, recently was awarded an oak leaf cluster for his Army Commendation Medal upon his retirement from 20 years of active duty.

Gannon, who last served as chief of the medical records branch and assistant registrar at Letterman General Hospital, the Presidio of San Francisco, served in the Navy in World War II before joining the army. He served in the United States, Europe and the Orient.

College To Renovate Student Union

By JIM WILLWERTH
College of Marin Reporter

College of Marin's existing Student Union, termed an "insult to humanity" by The Tower Times, college student newspaper, is the subject of a complete renovation program, it was announced yesterday by student body President Margaret Deedy of Ross.

"We want a positive, pleasant atmosphere for the students," said Miss Deedy. She further commented that present conditions are "deplorable and bad for the students' pride in their school."

One administration spokesman added, "The place is a mess."

The structure, termed "woefully inadequate" by the college administration, was built in 1948 for temporary use. However, it has remained as the college's sole student union facility to the present day.

A tentative program has been proposed by a joint student and administration committee authorized by the college trustees to "look into the feasibility of improvement of the Student Union." The committee will work with the Falk and Booth Architectural firm.

Present plans include an increase in area space for game rooms and study areas, better ventilation, increased food service, and more attractive interior decoration with the help of the campus art club and carpentry facilities.

Also planned is a partial change of furniture which will eventually be transferred to the new Student Union which is to be completed in 1966. A juke box which plays "albums only," is included in the tentative proposals.

Generally, the program calls for, as one student put it, "a complete renovation outside and inside."

President Deedy summed up the existing situation in this manner:

"We have a wonderful school and we ought to have the best possible atmosphere for the students which will be conducive to academic endeavor and social ease. These improvements are not for our own benefit but for the students who will follow us in the interim period before the new Student Union is built."

Named to the Cafeteria "facelifting" committee are: Thomas Galli of Kentfield; Christopher Cason of Tiburon; Patricia Papp of Terra Linda; Paul Lessig of Mill Valley; and Scott B. Kelly of San Anselmo.

San Marin Main Changes Planned

Approval of a final agreement for extending water mains into San Marin units 2 and 3 was postponed by the North Marin County Water District board Tuesday night, pending minor changes in it.

Sunset Petroleum Corp., which is putting in the subdivision on the Freitas C Ranch north of Novato, seeks a 26-inch water main to connect with the Russian River aqueduct, and a pumping station.

The board ordered plastic paint be put on the district's water tanks.

Officers Elected By Labor Council

Pat Dailey of Bartenders and Culinary Workers Union 126 last night was elected president of the Marin County Labor Council.

In the only other contested posts, seven men were elected to the executive board. They are: Paul Crumley of Carpenters 35, John Daly of Machinists 238, Al DeMello of Retail Clerks 1119, George Goodfellow of Laborers 291, Mike Pechina of Culinary Workers 126, Harry A. Reed of Painters 83 and Phil Ruby of Teachers 1077.

The council adopted a resolution calling for amendment of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District legislation to provide for elected representatives from the assembly districts inside the district and that planning use of land and transportation would be added to the functions of the district.

The council endorsed Stanley Lathen of Vallejo for the post of vice president of the California Federation of Labor.

OCEAN PUTS ON SHOW FOR MARINITES

Residents overlooking the breakers at Stinson Beach have been turning their houselights off the past evenings to see a show put on by Mother Nature.

The waves are glowing with a phosphorescent plankton that has been in the water for about a week, according to Mrs. Walter Boland of Stinson Beach. She said she talked about it with representatives of the State Department of Fish and Game and the Academy of Science in San Francisco.

"Everyone says it's very unusual this time of year," she said. "It usually comes in the fall."

Every two days, three children die from accidental poisoning in the home.

Crash Victim Awarded $17,500 In Marin Suit

A San Rafael brick mason, who was severely hurt when a car crashed through the 751 Club and crushed him against the bar in 1961, won a $17,500 verdict in Marin Superior Court last night.

A jury of seven men and five women deliberated about three hours and awarded the $17,500 verdict for Raymond Fetz, 58, of 1333 Fourth Street, and against Fred Wellen of 18 Sirard Lane and his daughter Phyllis.

The jury vote was 11 to 1, with one woman juror dissenting. She indicated she thought the damage award should have been larger.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori presided over the trial, which began on Feb. 6.

Fetz, the brick mason, was a customer at the 751 Club on May 24, 1961. A car driven by Phyllis Joan Wellen, then 16 years old, crashed through the wall, injuring Fetz and two other women patrons.

Attorney Richard A. Clarke, represented Fetz, while Robert Hines of San Francisco defended the Wellens. Wellen operates a typewriter store in San Rafael.

Intoxicated Driver Given $193 Fine

Rudolph Otto Huppert, 29, of 80 Valley Road, San Anselmo, paid $193 fine yesterday for his first drunken driving offense.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court also put Huppert on six months probation. Huppert was arrested on Highway 101 last Feb. 4.

Burglars Loot San Rafael Home

Persistent burglars looted the home of Robert D. Marshall of 41 Marinita Avenue, San Rafael, of $1,125 worth of household items between 2:30 p.m. Tuesday and 7:45 p.m. last night, according to police.

Entry was first tried by prying a door to the guest room. Next the glass portion of another door was attempted to be cut with glass cutters. Finally entry was made by prying open the window to the store room.

Taken were a portable television set, tape recorder, movie projector, radio, typewriter and other items.

Strawberry Vote

Russ R. Lloyd was elected chairman of the board of the Strawberry Recreation District last night to succeed C. G. Bush. Other new officers are L. J. Smith, vice chairman and Patricia M. Gowen, who was re-elected secretary.

Search On For Bridge Leaper

Coast Guard search for the body of a Tiburon Peninsula real estate broker believed to have jumped from the Golden Gate Bridge last night was unsuccessful today.

The California Highway Patrol was notified by a passing motorist of a car parked near the south tower of the bridge at 8 p.m. It was found to belong to Brenton Caldwell of 30 Tiburon Boulevard, who was missing from his home overnight.

No one positively identified the jumper but one motorist said he saw a shadow at the bridge rail and it might have been a man.

In 1961 farmers raised 108 million turkeys, compared with 66 million in 1955. Production was cut somewhat in 1962 from the 1961 figure.

$5.6-Million Burglary Is Revealed

NEW YORK (UPI)—More than 5.6 million dollars worth of stock certificates, jewels, rare coins and furs were stolen from the New Rochelle, N.Y., mansion of an oil attorney's widow 17 months ago and have not yet been recovered, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today.

An FBI spokesman said an intentive investigation has been made of the theft from the home of Mrs. Theresa McSweeney but no arrests have yet been made. Mrs. McSweeney is the widow of Henry McSweeney, who made a fortune as an oil firm attorney and founder of the U.S. Potash Co.

The burglary, one of the largest on record from a private home, was disclosed when the firm of Laidlaw and Co. issued a warning that stock certificates regisered in the name of Mrs. McSweeney are being offered for transfer. The firm said the certificates were stolen and had not been signed by Mrs. McSweeney. The FBI confirmed this.

Mrs. McSweeney said she believes the burglars gained entry to her 26-room mansion with a key stolen from her Atlantic City, N.J., resort home. She said she went to Atlantic City on Sept. 9, 1961, left her suitcase unpacked, and went out to dinner. When she returned, she found that thieves had broken in through a glass door, and rifled her suitcase of jewels, cash, and keys.

The following day, Mrs. McSweeney recounted, the thieves let themselves into her New Rochelle home, which was occupied only by servants while she was in Atlantic City. The elderly woman said the stocks, jewels of undisclosed value, and a coin collection were removed from a safe in an upstairs bedroom closet. The safe had been broken open. Furs also were taken from the closet.

Authorities said Mrs. McSweeney reported the theft immediately on her return from Atlantic City on Sept. 11. New stock certificates have since been issued to her by such corporations as American Telephone and Telegraph, Cincinnati Gas and Electric, U.S. Rubber, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Grand Union, General Telephone and Electronics and First National City Bank.

The Laidlaw firm said that 20 U.S. Steel certificates, representing 100 shares of stock each, had been "offered for transfer recently, altered to indicate the registered holder as Theodor N. Morsweener and in some cases the certificate numbers were changed." The firm did not say where the certificates were presented or by whom, but said the alterations were done by "a skillful artist."

"At the time of the burglary the market prices of these stolen stocks totalled 5.6 million dollars," a Laidlaw spokesman said. "I don't know their value today."

The spokesman said the duplicate certificates were issued with the owner putting up insurance bonds to idemnify the companies against any ultimate loss.

KENNEDY AS ANGEL—This is a closeup of a long-missing altar sculpture for which President John F. Kennedy posed as an angel while a Harvard student in 1939. (AP Wirephoto)

'A PERFECT ANGEL'

Altar Sculpture Of President Is Found

DETROIT (AP) — An altar sculpture depicting John F. Kennedy as a watchful angel hovering over St. Therese has been found in the basement of a Roman Catholic seminary in Memphis, Mich.

The discovery was announced yesterday by the Rev. Nicholas Maestrini, president of Maryglade College, and Benjamin Levinson, member of the board trustees.

It had been lying for three years safely packed away.

The sculpture — for which the president posed when he was a Harvard student—will be used on the main altar of the seminary.

The Kennedy panel was found after one of the Maryglade missionaries, Brother Ronald Doneda, last month saw pictures and a story about the Kennedy connection in an Italian magazine. He recalled the 12 crates in the basement that had been shipped from Rome. He unpacked them, studied them carefully and found the Kennedy sculpture.

Author-sculptor Mrs. John C. Wiley, wife of an American diplomat, and church officials confirmed the authenticity.

The origin was in Riga, Latvia, where the Wileys were stationed in 1939. Young Kennedy, on a vacation, was visiting the Wileys.

"I needed a model for the angel in one of the panels," Mrs. Wiley recalled. "Jack, with his curly hair and youthful serenity of expression, was literally God-sent."

The sculpture was intended for a new church in Antwerp, Belgium. But by the time it was completed the Nazis had overrun Belgium. It was shipped to Rome where it was assigned to a new church being built in a suburb.

When the new church was completed, the architect said it did not fit in with the building's design. Later it was donated for a religious exhibit in 1959.

There the Rev. Felix Cazzaniga picked it up for the Pontifical Institute for Foreign Missions Order. Father Maestrini, in Rome to discuss plans for construction of Maryglade, saw a panel from the dismantled altarpiece. He requested the entire sculpture for his new seminary.

Kettenhofen To Talk On Trip

Ernest N. Kettenhofen, Marin County land developer who last year visited Russia, Hungary and Germany with a delegation of Marin executives, will speak on his impressions of the trip at 8 p.m. Monday at Montgomery Hall at the San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo.

Kettenhofen will speak to the Marin chapter of the American Association for the United Nations.

The association also will elect officers and board members. Nominees are for president Dr. Arnold B. Come, vice president Mrs. Vera B. Schultz and Mrs. Eric Moeller, recording secretary Mrs. George Steen-Larsen, corresponding secretary Mrs. Dore Schwab, treasurer Lionel Harwin and membership chairman Dr. Esther Johnson.

San Rafael Singer Performs In Hawaii

San Rafael singer and musician Steve Barkhurst, whose professional name is Steve Logan, recently sang and played the piano before Gov. and Mrs. John A. Burns of Hawaii in a performance at Washington Place in Honolulu.

Barkhurst, 21, who had just completed a three-month engagement at the Royal Lanai in Waikiki, decided to stay in the islands and work his way through the University of Hawaii. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jon W. Barkhurst of 7 Knight Drive in Glenwood.

School Organization Action Is Urged

Members of the Marin County augmented committee on school district organization last night heard seven schemes for possible unification of the Tamalpais High School District and were told to come back in three or four weeks "ready to go to work" on a final plan.

County committee members, who described the proposals in the Edna Maguire School in Mill Valley, admitted that their personal views "may have crept into" the reports which listed advantages and disadvantages of various unification combinations.

One proposal was an outright appeal for the inclusion of West Marin in whatever plan the committee decides to adopt.

Mrs. Frank E. Short of Inverness, newly appointed county committee member, told fellow members and trustees of the 13 districts in the study area that there are "three good reasons" for inclusion of West Marin and Point Reyes School Districts:

1) They must be included by Law; 2) They would add assessed valuation to any unified district; 3) Inclusion would improve education in West Marin.

"Children are being deprived of equal opportunity for a good education in West Marin," she said. "It is discrimination and not just a local problem. It should concern all of you." She referred to attendance of West Marin students at Tomales High School, a situation which is strongly opposed by West Marin residents who say Tomales is inadequate.

Mrs. Short emphasized it is the duty of the committee to include West Marin in a new study within six months after the state board of education rejected a Tomales unification plan. The six months will expire March 13.

Unification of the entire Tamalpais district, with or without West Marin, was proposed by committee members Robert Rogers and Mrs. Eugene Crawford.

"It might be called the North Golden Gate Unified School District, Rogers said. "It would be very simple to draw the lines — just take in everything as it is now. The average school tax rate in Marin, now higher than the state average, would come closer to the rest of the state if the district were formed."

"If it were formed tomorrow, it would include 38 elementary schools and three high schools," Mrs. Crawford said. "There would be no change in present attendance centers, and it would lend itself very well to creation of a junior high school system. There would be efficient expansion and no duplication of existing administrative offices now in the Tamalpais High School District."

Other unification schemes, with the exception of the possible creation of a separate Reed unified district for the Tiburon Peninsula as suggested by Peter MacGowan, were presented with less enthusiasm than total unification.

Jack Mengel, however, suggested a "compromise" north-south split, with one district on each side of the Corte Madera Ridge.

Committee members agreed on the prediction that about 10 new high schools would be built in the area within the next 40 years no matter what kind of unification, if any, is adopted.

Earl Marshall, committee chairman, said, "We've talked for as long as 10 years about all this, and we should get the show on the road. There have been many violent arguments and many friendships stretched."

He urged augmented committee members to "take back these ideas to your boards and districts and report their opinions to us. Let's not get into a situation again where we beg for more time."

Marshall said a date and place for the next meeting would be announced later. But he added that he would "never predict" when a vote might be taken on any unification plan to be presented finally to the state.

Emergency Fire Call Stickers Due Tiburon

The Tiburon Fire Protection District Commission will distribute to all residents telephone stickers with the emergency fire call number printed on it. The stickers will be donated by the Corner Market.

Also at last night's meeting the commission authorized purchase of reference books on fire prevention and fire fighting. Warrants in amount of $636 were approved.

Fire Truck Contract Let By Novato Board

Coast Apparatus Co. of Martinez was awarded a $11,596 contract for a new fire truck last night by the Novato Fire District board at a special meeting.

Bids were opened at the regular meeting of the board last Wednesday night. Coast Apparatus was the lowest of three bids, submitted for a high pressure brush truck on a four-wheel-drive chassis. The truck will be delivered 90 to 110 days after the chassis is purchased from a local Dodge dealer, according to terms of the contract.

Strawberry Rec District Group Seeking To Annex Three Areas

Strawberry Recreation District directors last night passed a resolution of intention to annex three areas to the district.

They are the Greenwood Lagoon and the Salt Works Canal, a one acre parcel owned by Dr. J. Stubblebine and an area including and surrounding the Marin Auto Circle. The latter area includes no private homes and is zoned for apartments, administrative-professional and commercial.

A hearing will be held on the proposal March 20 at 8 a.m. in Strawberry Point School, said Patricia M. Gowen, secretary. If annexation, which can be done by resolution of the board, is approved, it will not effect the tax roll until 1964.

Reasons for annexation are that much of the area is currently under development and will have residents which the district will be required to serve and annexation will allow a policing power for the Salt Works Canal.

The board also accepted a $1,774 bid from Bermuda Mar Vel Pool of San Rafael to make repairs, corrections and completions to the Strawberry Swim Club Pool.

Tryouts For Play

Tryouts for the Marin Dramatists Guild's production of "The Innocents" will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Belrose Studio Theater, 1415 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

County's Efforts For Sr. Citizens Outlined On KTIM

Marin County efforts to start a coordinated senior citizen program through the instrumentality of the Marin Council of Community Services find the council ready to go, its president declared today on a radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" panel discussion.

County Administrator Alan Bruce outlined efforts of the board of supervisors toward service to older residents, indicating that the council had been selected as an appropriate instrument.

"We are very anxious to get started on the contract," said Robert W. Corlett, president of the council's board. "I know that we will do an effective job."

Listeners showed special interest in the job-finding work of the county office of the State Department of Employment, questioning its employment service supervisor Robert Souza.

Souza denied suggestions that there was a tendency to try to push older applicants off into San Francisco jobs or that there was any lack of effort to find suitable positions. People suited for professional or clerical positions are often pointed toward employment in San Francisco as within normal commuting distance and offering most opportunities, he said.

He mentioned that his office has an older worker specialist and expressed readiness to explore possibilities through special interviews when employment in chosen fields isn't immediately in sight.

"We must remember that the employment service doesn't make jobs," said Ann McCory, secretary of the Senior Citizens Coordinating Council. Miss McCory termed individual aging "a very public condition" and said that the community gets good value by spending something to prevent all manner of costs when talents of the aged are wasted.

Bruce said surveys in Marin County have found a reservoir of talent among senior citizens, along with readiness to work usefully.

Corlett pointed to the anomaly of seeing medical science prolong the period of usefulness to past 75 years in a vast number of instances while at the same time allowing many to be "put out to pasture" at 65.

He said the council intends in Marin to seek not merely recreation for the aged, but utilization of senior citizens' abilities.

Kitty Oppenheimer moderated the discussion which will be rebroadcast from tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

No More Tests Scheduled For Bones On Beach

No more tests are scheduled by the Marin County Coroner's office to determine the identity of bones found Saturday on the Point Reyes Beach near the lighthouse.

Assistant Coroner William Bradley said today that without the skull the pathologist "would never be able to identify the bones." The pathologist report stated that the bones had been in the water since between spring and November, Bradley said.

The pelvis, thigh bones and section of vertebrae belonged to a male who was between five feet eight and five feet 10 inches tall. The bones had been exposed to the sun on the beach for about a day or so, Bradley said.

The bones could belong to fishermen, bridge jumpers or one of the Alcatraz escapers of June 8, who were all missing during the estimated time that the bones entered the water.

Promoted To Major

Army Capt. Russell L. Kerr of 12 Arbor Circle, Novato, who is assigned to the comptroller's office at Letterman General Hospital, the Presidio of San Francisco, recently was promoted to major. Kerr served with the Military Assistance Advisory Group in Vietnam before taking his present post.

NEW SAN ANSELMO HOUSING DEVELOPMENT — Construction will start shortly on these three fourplex apartments on Cedar Avenue opposite Tunstead Avenue. Duplexes are planned for adjoining property.

Sewer Fees May Go Up In Larkspur

Larkspur would have to pay about $12,000 per year more for sewer service, under a proposed agreement being negotiated with Ross Valley Sanitary District.

City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper reported to the city council last night that Larkspur's share in the cost of rebuilding the sanitary district sewage treatment plant will be $200,000. Paid over a 27-year period, the annual cost of principal and interest (about four and one-eighth per cent) would be about $12,000.

Under a 1948 agreement, Sanitary District No. 1 agreed to take care of a 250,000 gallon flow per day from Larkspur. For this service, Larkspur is now paying about $14,350 per year, including operating cost.

For an added $12,000 per year, the sanitary district agrees to take care of an added 500,000 gallon per day on the basis of "dry weather flow," or a total of 750,000 gallons per day.

This should take care of Larkspur's needs for many years to come, the city manager reported.

Piper reported that the actual wording and details of the new sewer agreement are still being worked out.

Action Promised On Eucalpytus Danger

Larkspur will do everything legally possible to eliminate the danger of leaning or fallen eucalyptus trees along Magnolia Avenue near the entrance to Hillview Gardens.

A three-man council last night instructed City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper to contact the city attorney to see what legal steps can be taken to abate the nuisance. Both Mayor James E. Lienkaemper and Councilman Neil R. Brixon were absent last night. Daniel Allen acted as mayor.

City Manager Piper reported that the recent storms caused one tree to lean and another to topple over onto another tree. But in each case, the damaged trees are on private property, and he is not sure what legal responsibility the city has.

The Larkspur City Council also:

1. Passed a resolution opposing any bills in the state Legislature that would identify the party affiliation of candidates in local elections. A letter from State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) opposing such bills, was read last night and acknowledged.

2. Rescinded a permit for a taxi stand in front of Larkspur Pharmacy on Magnolia Avenue between Ward and Cane. The taxi stand is no longer in use.

3. Introduced an ordinance naming the city manager as director of finance and turning over all financial duties of the city clerk to the director of finance. The change would merely bring the law in line with the actual operation of the city, Piper explained. For example, each year, Piper draws up the annual report to file with the state controller. But the city clerk would sign it under present regulations, whereas the city manager is actually responsible for it.

4. Continued until March 6 a discussion on a retirement program for city employees.

5. Learned from City Manager Piper that a home at 43 Briar Road, damaged by slides during the recent storm, may be sitting partly on the city road right of way.

6. Continued until next month any action on repairing the floor of Eastman Hall, a community recreation building on Williams Avenue. The city manager will get estimates on the cost of covering the floor.

Young Girl Hurt In Auto Crash

Patti Maureen Kelly, 9, received a laceration on her tongue when the car driven by her mother, Mrs. Mary Elaine Kelly, 34, of 60 Nova Lane, Novato, was in an accident at 5:25 p.m., yesterday at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue, Novato police reported.

The Kelly car was westbound on Grant Avenue when it was hit on the left rear side by a car driven by Martin R. Christofferson, 64, of 1506 Vallejo Avenue. Christofferson was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Patti was treated and released at Novato Hospital.

Schubert Festival Is Slated

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

One of the most comprehensive musical events ever to be held in Marin will be a week-long Schubert Festival presented March 10-15 by the Dominican College Department of Music.

The festival, composed of concerts, a lecture and master classes in voice, will be on the college campus in San Rafael, starting with a concert on Sunday, March 10, at 8:30 p.m. by the Alma Alma Trio.

The other concerts will be: Monday, March 11, baritone Aksel Schoitz in song recital; Tuesday, March 12, festival chorus and orchestra directed by Philip Ienni with soprano Gwen Curatilo, tenor Edward Jameson and baritone Richard Frock as soloists; Wednesday, March 13, Wallfisch Duo composed of Ernst Wallfisch, viola, and Lory Wallfisch, piano; and Friday, March 15, a chamber music concert featuring Margo Blum, mezzo-soprano; William Sabatini, French horn; Alden Gilchrist, piano; Sister Mary Dominic, O.P., piano; Henry Shweid, violin; Asbjorn Finess, viola; Bonnie Hampton, cello, and Charles Siani, bass.

On Thursday, March 14, at 11:30 a.m., Ernst Wallfisch, professor of viola and chamber music at the Mozarteum in Salsburg, will lecture on his impressions of recent international music festivals.

Master classes will be given on Tuesday, March 12, by Aksel Schoitz, world famous lieder singer, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Pennafort Hall. Performers will be accepted by auditions to be held by appointment with Gertrude Gruenberg.

Appointments may be made by calling the college music department on weekdays only between 10 and 11 a.m. and 4 and 5 p.m. Performers will be limited to 12.

Auditors may attend the classes by reservation, which are to be made before March 7. Luncheon for participants and auditors will be served in Caleruega Hall.

Single concert tickets will be available at the door before performances. Mail orders may be sent to Department of Music, Dominican College, San Rafael.

Lt. Gov. Anderson Set Marin Speech

Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson will be the main speaker of the monthly meeting of the Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at Tomahawk Lodge in Novato.

Anderson will talk on statewide planning, legislation that will affect cities and the impact of California's growth on cities.

Novato is the host city at this monthly meeting of the mayors and councilmen of Marin County.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

$250,000 Housing Development Scheduled To Begin In Hub City

Construction on a $250,000 housing development in San Anselmo is scheduled to begin in a few days. Property involved consists of five hillside lots on the west side of Cedar Avenue opposite Tunstead Avenue which will provide three fourplex apartments and additional duplexes on two of the lots which have been rezoned from R-1 to R-2. No builder has yet been selected.

Owner David Rosenberg of Kentfield and his associates recently purchased the lots from Tim Kong of San Francisco. Sale of the property was negotiated by Di Suvero and Co., San Francisco realty firm. Gilan-Farr and Coleman of San Rafael are doing the building designing. Occupancy of the fourplexes is being set for July or August.

MARIN MULTIPLE HOUSING building permits issued in January comprised 46 per cent of total residential construction per living unit—26 per cent in dollar volume. All building permits were 29.9 per cent higher than in January, 1962 — 25.8 per cent higher than in December.

THE MARIN COUNTY Real Estate Board is running out of space. When the present office building was put up at 255 West End Avenue, San Rafael, seven years ago it was thought the entire premises wouldn't be needed for 10 or 15 years, so the excess was leased out to other tenants.

But the picture has changed. Increased real estate sales have so stepped up board activities it could use every square foot to advantage. The problem has caused board directors to reserve adjoining quarters now occupied by physical therapist Rosa Muller, whose lease expires in August. She'll have to find another spot by then to make way for expansion. No doubt the rest of the building will be taken over as it becomes available.

THE VOLUME of loans from $5,000 to $15,000 made to business firms is also growing, according to Roy Michael, who heads San Rafael's Royce Finance Plan. Michael also reports more individual Marin residents on his books than ever before, reaching a new high this month in number of loans and dollars outstanding. The firm's financing of insurance premiums, home improvements, consolidation of obligations and automobile purchases has grown steadily, he says. Expansion plans may be announced soon.

PAUL CIAMPI, San Rafael distributor for Burgermeister and Schlitz beer, will attend the California Beer Wholesalers' Assn. convention March 7 through 9 in San Francisco. He is on the board of directors and was formerly president of the association.

FRANK FULLAM Painting and Decorating is moving its headquarters from Greenbrae to 35 Mills Street, San Rafael.

ART BRODIE, partner in San Rafael Tire and Brake Service, has been presented with a 20-year award by Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. for outstanding service.

LUCKY STORES, INC., is purchasing Foodland, Inc., which has seven stores in the Seattle area. The purchase increases Lucky operations to a total of 148 stores.

Plays In Sausalito

Sausalito Little Theater's production of "The American Dream" and "The Sandbox", directed by Dion Chesse, will be extended through March 2, at the Little Theater, 745½ Bridgeway.

Brown Calls For Assault On Roots Of Poverty In State

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown called on the legislature today for "an assault on the roots of poverty, dependency and suffering in our state."

In a special written message, the Democratic governor said there are four million Californians—nearly a fourth of the population — living "precariously on the margin of our economy."

He said a half million are in poverty, another half million live on bare subsistence, and three million have barely adequate incomes—and a disproportionate share of them are Negroes and Mexican-Amercans.

Most are trapped in big city ghettoes, increasingly insulated from society, he said.

He laid out three goals for his program: Shift the emphasis in welfare programs from dole to rehabilitation; increase education, training and economic opportunity and make the administration of social welfare sounder, more effective and more efficient.

Basing his program on a recent report by Social Welfare Study Commission, Brown asked for these specific laws:

1. Speed up welfare payments to people in need if they appear eligible for federally assisted programs. If they later prove inelligible, allow the state to share in county relief to them.

2. Expand on-the-job training of social workers and enlarge the programs at the university and state colleges.

3. Require counties to have a welfare director pledge to administer and enforce state welfare laws and regulations.

4. Replace the 20 different formulas for federal-state-county sharing of welfare costs with one formula for all programs; provide that the state's share shall increase as county costs rise in terms of tax rates.

5. Shift the policy-making functions of the State Social Welfare Board to the director of social welfare, putting the responsibility more directly on the governor and freeing the board for advisory investigations.

6. Recodify and simplify welfare regulations.

7. Give the department more latitude in fixing amounts of aid to various persons, possibly by putting a ceiling on the average of all payments, rather than on individual payments.

8. Make children of unemployed parents eligible for Aid to Needy Children — removing the motive for jobless fathers to "abandon" their families to make them eligible.

9. Widen the definition of disability so that persons unemployable because of permanent disability, even if they do not require constant care, can get Aid to the Totally Disabled.

10. Forbid mass night raids on homes of welfare recipients, which Brown called "unfortunate spectacles and unwarranted intrusions."

11. Provide for joint action by district attorneys and welfare authorities against chiselers.

Brown called on the lawmakers to pass his other proposals in the related fields of education, human rights, full employment, industrial development and youth conservation.

He also announced he will soon ask for "the means of aiding our great private building industry to provide decent housing opportunities in a variety equal to the wide range of need which exists in our state."

Bagley Says Welfare Raids Very Effective

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Midnight raids on homes of welfare recipients are defended as "very effective" by Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael).

"I see no violation of civil rights in the night call program," Bagley wrote John M. Wedemeyer, state director of social welfare, yesterday.

Bagley said that in San Joaquin County night raids turned up men in 52 of 69 homes raided, and in some instances it was the father who supposedly had abandoned his family.

He said more limits on county investigations would do nothing but encourage welfare fraud.

Commute Club Wants Action On One-Way Gate Span Tolls

Golden Gate Bridge directors have been kicking the proposal for one-way tolls on the bridge around like a toy balloon and should stop evading the issue and take some action, the Mill Valley Commuters Club said today.

Club secretary James A. Bollier said the club, which met Tuesday night, is very disappointed with the board's handling of the proposal.

Reasoning by the building and operating committee of the board on how to determine which way the toll should be placed is "absolutely juvenile," charged Bollier. He said the committee has suggested the one-way toll be collected in the direction in which there is heaviest traffic, to bring the district the most money.

Proper way to determine this, said Bollier, is to find out which direction flow of traffic has the greatest concentration buildup.

The club announced its support of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs proposal for a bus service study by the bridge board.

Garden Supply Firm Burglarized

A burglar broke into a garden supply firm north of San Rafael and stole more than $500 worth of equipment and coins, the owner reported yesterday.

Robert S. Herman, who operates a garden supply firm at 3825 Redwood Highway, told Sheriff's Deputy William Bradford that $25 in pennies is missing from a file cabinet in his office. The intruder had removed three louvers from a north side window to get inside.

Missing equipment include a 10-ton hydraulic jack, tow cable, electric drill, 100 feet of hose, and socket set.

Nuclear Power Plant Foes Like Anti-Fluoridationists

If you ask us, the foes of fluoridation and the foes of PG & E's proposed new atomic plant at Bodega have much in common.

The foes of fluoridation persist in raising the same old questions about the safety of the dangerous and poisonous fluoride chemical.

The foes of the atomic power plant persist in raising the same old questions about the safety of "radio active wastes."

The foes of fluoridation produce testimony by "experts" before governmental bodies "raising questions" about the safety of fluorides.

The foes of nuclear power produce testimony by "experts" before governmental bodies "raising questions" about possible dangerous radioactivity.

The foes of fluoridation at times get a little over-zealous and let their emotions interfere with their ability to accept facts. The same can be said of the foes of nuclear power.

The foes of fluoridation seem to close their eyes to the long record of the safe, beneficial use of fluorides in other areas, some not so far from Marin.

The foes of the nuclear plant likewise seem to close their eyes of the extensive records of safe and successful nuclear generation of electric power in other areas, some not so far from Marin.

In both instances, extensive safety checks and tests have been carried on without indication of impending calamity. In both instances, the critics choose to ignore these facts.

We can understand how a real dyed-in-wool lover of seascapes can have aesthetic objection to the placing of any man-made structure on the horizon.

We can even sympathize with this point of view at times. We are just reactionary enough at times so that we hate to see old familiar scenes change. We hate to see some old buildings torn down. We especially hate to see trees cut down. And we are most unhappy when the inevitable day comes that homes must be built on the last vacant lots in our neighborhood.

But the way we humans are multiplying on this earth we have got to make way.

As we say, we understand this preservationist point of view and sympathize with it.

But we don't believe it constitutes license to be blindly and unrealistically anti-nuclear power plant in the pattern of unreasoning anti-fluoridationists.

Let the "antis" restrain their emotions so as not to do violence to the facts.

The Fifty Mile Madness

A number of Marinites have recently been afflicted with the Kennedy-inspired 50-mile hike madness. It seems to have struck the restless teen-agers the hardest.

If this craze provides a healthy outlet for the pent-up energies of these young adults, it will be the greatest thing since the Peace Corps.

Perhaps a brisk couple of laps around our desk would be in order now. Might provide a safe outlet for our dangerously tamped energies too.

No doubt we Americans are an auto-softened race. We'd rather ride than walk. This is probably more to save valuable time than just mere laziness. Our country is the most hurry-ridden on earth.

It would be a great irony if, in our hurry to get ahead, we fell behind. But that is what seems to have happened to our physical fitness.

We hope the killing chore of 50 miles will not discourage less-ambitious hikers from enjoying shorter distances.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

It All Depends On How You Look At Way Political Money Is Spent

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

It all depends on how you look at it!

That phrase has particular significance in politics. Points of view cast different shadows; things look different from the other side of the fence. And so it was last weekend at Fresno Young Republican convention when the First District caucus dug deep into political actions of Thomas Moss of Mill Valley.

Moss, who was not a delegate to the convention, was running for state executive vice president. He had supported Ron Garver, an admitted Birch Society member, for the YR presidency until Garver withdrew; then he favored Birch-supported Bob Gaston. Gaston supported him.

Ultra-conservative Moss knew that he had little or no support in the more liberal Marin and First District delegation. But he appeared before it anyway to seek votes. It seems unlikely he anticipated what happened.

After a few routine questions, it was brought out that Moss had raised $800 last year to bring delegates from new clubs to the Disneyland convention. Further, he was reported to have made similar offers, i.e., to pay all the expenses of delegates, to last weekend's convention provided they would support his candidacy.

Moss didn't deny the charges. He noted he had been the district vice president last year and his job had been to organize new units in the district. In order to get these new YR units represented, Moss went on, he had raised the money himself and offered it in open meetings to new unit members who could go to Disneyland last year; no strings attached.

HOW MUCH money did he raise for the Republican Party in the same time? he was asked. $80, he answered, and some of the caucus members laughed out loud.

How much money had he paid out for delegates to come to this year's Fresno convention? Moss wasn't sure. He said he had remembered he offered to pay the way for Dr. Charles Sims of Del Norte County. Dr. Sims emphatically denied he had accepted the money. Moss agreed he had not.

WHERE DID HE get the money?

Moss was vague. It had been donated to him. He had raised it. From whom? Various people. Some of it came from businessmen, he declared later, "I feel that there should be a closer relationship between business and politics; this is one way of giving them a direct connection."

But he wouldn't be specific about the money.

One caucus member, Cliff Gerstner of Greenbrae, recalled he had given Moss $10 last year for his project.

"But," said Moss, "that was only one of about 23 donations."

THEN THE CAUCUS members started to quiz Moss on where he got money for his executive vice presidential campaign. They pointed out he was circulating several types of brochures and pamphlets, some of them printed in several colors and obviously expensive.

Moss, his irritation rising, had had all he could take. He balked entirely about discussing his own campaign finances, turned and strode from the motel bedroom where the caucus was taking place.

FOOTNOTE: With Marin's delegation voting 6 to 2 against him, Moss was easily elected vice president of the Young Republicans for the coming year.

Corte Madera Sewer Board Mulls What To Do With Unused Pump Site

DIRECTOR WILLIAM A. Adam's expense account, cited by the new director, John R. Adlard, wasn't the only money item questioned at the recent board meeting of the Corte Madera Sanitary District (County Sanitary District 2).

The other new director, John Phil Seymour, asked, "What about this $300 to Dan Coleman Associates for surveying the property on Paradise Drive?"

That's the parcel, a mighty sore point with the district, that was bought for $30,000 for a new pumping station—then left unused because the town planning commission and town council last February voted, "No!" when nearby property owners howled it was "too close" to the Embee Market, etc.

Adam replied the land was surveyed so he could take steps to fence it.

Fred A. Nicholson, board president, added children had played on it. Director Herbert I. Vernet said he'd seen "as many as 30 cars parked there."

Adam said, "Mr. Byrnes dumped stuff there and we don't want to be responsible." Other discussion brought out that the Marin Municipal Water District had complained over valves being covered by debris and the sanitary district might want to use the site for storage.

"Mr. Byrnes" is Eugene Byrnes Sr., blamed by district officials as the major bottleneck in their defeated hopes to put a pumping station on the site. He owns property in the midst of the shopping center area containing the food market, advises Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow.

For a while district officials thought of using the site for a new headquarters, replacing the tiny garage space at 500 Tamalpais Drive where directors almost have to use a shoehorn to squeeze in for meetings.

Now the directors aren't sure what to do with the land. One town official suggests "that they just hang on to it till they can sell it for $50,000 and make money for the taxpayers."

Brandow told me this week he recommends that the town invite the district to use an office in the old firehouse after it is remodeled.

The remodeling is due after a new public safety building is put up on Pixley Avenue for police and firemen. Architect Gene Crawford has been signed to design the new building and conversion of the old firehouse to office space.

A county official meanwhile favors merging Sanitary Districts 1 and 2 in a program to join other such districts across Marin to reduce costs and officialdom!

WILL THE KENTFIELD Civic League blow up a record storm this year?

Most recent meeting of directors of the league—nearest thing Kentfield has to a government—found them in deep soul searching.

Their decisions to have directors list suggested improvements at the March 11 meeting and to invite all Kentfield residents to join the league followed talk of what the league had been and what it could be.

"We feel the league's function should be more than it has been," says Allen G. Wright, president. "In the past activity has consisted of going to (county) planning commission meetings to block people wanting to put in two-by-four subdivisions."

Wright says he invites all Kentfield residents to tell him what improvements they'd like.

The current direction of the directors indicates they feel the league should make a fuss over what it wants rather than what it opposes.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Perfidious Albion Saved France

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I never cease to be amazed at the gullibility and ignorance of some people, who insist on writing vapid letters to various mass media on subjects which they obviously know very little about.

Such a letter printed in your paper came to my attention recently, regarding France and the present French president.

The person writing this letter was deploring the "dirt slinging" allegedly at France, during the recent flare-up of controversy over the European common market. In my opinion, this letter was not averse to a little dirt-slinging of its own, since it referred in a derogatory manner to a phrase quite wrongly characterized as a surname "Perfidious Albion."

I should like to remind the writer that this phrase was coined by the most infamous would-be totalitarian dictator of them all—Napoleon!

I would further remind the writer that this very pompous little man was frustrated into a state of foaming rage because of those stubborn "Perfidious Albions" who refused to submit to his grand plan of pillage and overlordship of all of Europe and North Africa.

I will also remind the writer that these same hated English stubbornly stood in the way of two more would-be conquerors with whom France was obviously unable to cope, at the cost of most of their "blood, sweat and tears" but NOT their honor. Furthermore, I submit that this great free land in which we live was founded by some of those same "Perfidious Albions" who gave us our own language, laws and judiciary system, to say nothing of those unique instruments, the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights.

Regarding France's reinstatement as a great nation, I hasten to point out that this is obviously what the present French president has in mind some day.

If that ever becomes (you will pardon the expression) a "fait accompli"—it will in my opinion have been done at the expense of almost every other nation in the Western alliance.

While it is true that brave and gallant Frenchmen fought on throughout the darkest days of the recent world-wide madness, the country as a whole in my judgement left their perfidious allies holding their Albion sack by themselves.

Regarding the inane prattlings of certain columnists such as the Earl of Arran, it seems to me that any person who pretends to be informed and allows such mouthings to obscure the real issues is at best holding themselves up to public ridicule.

Diatribe is a two-edged weapon and can bring out only the worst in people holding opposing views. I feel that irresponsible blind hatred is the greatest menace this poor unhappy planet faces today, and will unfortunately face for years to come.

In my opinion the present French president is pursuing a dangerous path of self-seeking aggrandizement in an atmosphere reminiscent of a long-gone era.

He would do well to remember that "no man is an Island"—and for that matter, no nation either.

President's Tax Program Off To Bad Start; Politically Misconceived

THE PRESIDENT'S TAX program has had a rough reception, and it is off to a bad start. It has virtually no enthusiastic friends. It has aroused a diverse array of opponents who, though they disagree drastically among themselves, are at one in attacking the proposals.

If we ask ourselves why the prospects are so poor, we must note, I think, that whatever the fiscal merits—which I think are very great — the program is politically misconceived. In an effort to please everybody a little, very few are left who are pleased very much. It is a program to cut taxes and at the same time to raise them, and no political leader can rouse the people to follow him in two opposite directions at once. The program, in fact, is not designed for the use of a leader of the nation. It is designed for logrolling among the factions of special interests who dominate Congress.

IN CHOOSING a program which is made for logrolling and not for open public leadership, the architects of the program were hoping not to have to face the basic fact in the situation. This is that the principle of the new policy is not now understood and accepted by a large majority of our people. No one, I think, can deny the novelty of the principle of a voluntary deficit—planned to expand demand in order to stimulate the economy. A good majority of our people regard a planned deficit as contrary to sound government and to good morale. Those who support the new program are a minority, and they are likely to remain a minority until they have done a vast amount of successful demonstrating and teaching.

The burden of proof is on those who believe that the chronic sluggishness of the American economy, which threatens many of our vital interests, can be overcome by this new fiscal policy. The President has espoused the new principle. But he has lacked confidence in his ability to persuade a majority and has therefore fallen back upon the device of the legislative logroll. My point is that so new and so experimental a principle as the planned deficit cannot be put into effect by logrolling and manipulation. The principle has to be understood by the people. A standard has to be raised which is visible and clear to all if a majority is to be rallied to it.

BUT THE President's tax program, though it contains a moderate and sensible application of the new principle, is a political contraption designed not to rally the people but to offset factions and special interests against one another. What, for example, is used as the measure of the planned deficit? That it should be just a little smaller than President Eisenhower's record-breaking involuntary deficit in 1959. What was used as the mark which expenditures—in the administrative budget only—must not reach? One hundred million dollars, as in a department store where the price is supposed to be more alluring if it is $4.99 rather than $5.

The net result of such calculations is a program which both lowers and raises taxes. The country is baffled by it. Instead of focusing public attention on the vital need to stimulate the economy, each taxpayers has been invited to see whether he will lose more by the tax reforms than he will gain by the tax reductions.

It would be better, I think, if the administration followed the lead given by Sen. Hubert Humphrey, which is to cut its losses, postpone the tax reforms and ask for a straightforward tax cut. Granted that this will not be easy to get from Senator Byrd. But the administration is not going to get its program from Senator Byrd. At least, a simple program of tax reduction would pose clearly the real issue, which is whether we should take means at once to stimulate our sluggish economy.

Too Bad Others Don't Stop, Help

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Re your obituary on P. J. Salmon in today's (Feb. 14) Independent-Journal.

It was not the police that found Mr. Salmon at 9:30 last night in his car at Douglas Drive. I found him there on my way home at about 9:05 p.m. and of course called the police, who came shortly thereafter.

It's quite possible that he was there in his car suffering for some time, and had somebody taken the trouble to stop and investigate a little earlier, his life perhaps could have been saved.

As the police officer attending said to me: "Too bad that most people are only concerned with themselves and don't stop to help others in a case like this."

I'm not writing this seeking credit, or thanks, to me it was adequate satisfaction that I was able to assist.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

I've often been asked what contestant, of all the thousands I've encountered on the TV panel show, "What's My Line?" I remember most clearly. Without any question, it was a chap who worked at one of New York's summer recreation centers. No sooner had we guessed his occupation and shaken hands with him than he walked into the arms of six cops who were waiting for him in the wings.

It developed that the misguided lad was wanted in six different states for stealing automobiles. The minute his face was reproduced on the TV screen, every police station in New York was alerted and went into action.

Another contestant we "What's My Line" panelists will not forget in a hurry was a darling old lady who was a "cow washer." Yes, she washed cows at a big dairy in New Jersey. We missed her occupation by the proverbial mile.

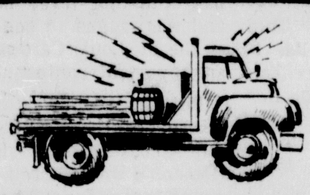

What is worse, they brought her back to face us once more three years later — and we missed her all over again!

Mrs. Dillenberg, on the veranda of the Comfort Arms, remarked, "I gave a beggar ten dollars today." Her companion inquired, "What did your husband have to say about that?" Mrs. Dillenberg admitted, "He said thank you."

Dark No Longer Meek, Gentle Guy In His 1963 Local Press Debut

CONNOLLY

Alvin Dark's 1963 press conference at Candlestick Park yesterday has to be classed as real busteroo. Before a packed press room of radio, TV and newsmen, the Giant manager stepped out of his usual calm and guarded manner and became a real smart alecky conversationalist.

"Where's your boy friend Charley McCabe?" Dark asked Bob Stevens, also of the S.F. Chronicle.

When I met him in Jerry Donovan's office he gave me a roarin' welcome by asking me, "Are you still writing?"

At great length Dark condemned a story out of Miami quoting him as picking the Giants to repeat as National League winners and then winning the world championship.

"I didn't make those remarks," Dark claimed.

And to add another touch of smart aleck remarks, the Giant manager, laughingly, said he would look forward to seeing how he might be misquoted in today's coverage.

ALL IN all the 1963 local press debut of the Giants' manager was sparked with a challenging attitude, something not in the least like the meek and gentle guy who came here two years ago. He told the press how hard he prayed to God for the right answer to Horace Stoneham's invitation to boss the club.

In the course of an hour's question and answer period, Manager Dark decided for his listeners that his club was all set for 1963 and hoped the few changes made in the club's personnel would enable them to deliver as well, if not better, than they did in 1962.

BUT, AS I was saying, when interrupted after the World Series, there isn't anything wrong with the Giants that money, and a little smoother managing, can't cure. By that I mean the holdout players not only have to sign but they must be contented with their wage settlement and show up eager and anxious; not disgruntled and unhappy.

It is easy to say the Giants ought to REPEAT as National League champion, but if you check things closely, you'll discover that five different ball clubs won the championship in the last five years. So you can't say it's a breeze to repeat.

PITCHERS JACK SANFORD, Billy O'Dell, Juan Marichal, Billy Pierce and bullpen hurlers like Don Larsen, Bob Bolin, maybe Jack Fisher and Billy Hoeft have to be worthwhile performers.

From a sound analytical summary of the Giants as they enter spring training tomorrow, one has to agree they could be stronger than they were in 1962. An extra year's experience for players like Orlando Cepeda, Tom Haller, Jose Pagan, Jimmy Davenport, Willie McCovey and the Alous, could work wonders with the Giants.

THE CHANCES of Willie McCovey developing into another Babe Herman as an outfielder looks exceedingly bright. If the gangling infielder can stumble along, alternating with Harvey Kuehn without getting seriously injured, I think he'll make it, if not in 1963, surely in 1964. And with Willie Mays, Felipe and Matty Alou helping patrol the outfield, the Giants might easily continue in the top spot for quite a spell.

Seldom has a club won a championship while developing so many high class youngsters. Usually a club in a flag race, is lucky to develop one player, but here we find the Giants with a half dozen youngsters who now rank as veterans under fire. And that is what makes the Giants so potentially promising.

Willie Mays was under the gun today to live up to one of the biggest salaries ever collected by a ballplayer —about $100,000.

The San Francisco Giants' great center fielder came to terms with the club yesterday for what was believed to be a little more than that amount.

As a result, he became not only the highest salaried player in the New York and San Francisco history of the Giants, but also only one of four who ever has commanded such a wage.

Other members of the "Hundred Grand Club" are Joe Di Maggio of the New York Yankees, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals.. Musial, the last of those three still playing, is back in the $45,000 class.

Mays wasn't around when Vice President Charles (Chub) Feeney of the Giants made the announcement at a press conference. He had taken off for spring training and could be located in Phoenix, Ariz., some 60 miles from the Casa Grande base where the Giants open full scale training on Monday.

Manager Alvin Dark, who was slated to leave for camp today, said that Mays should have three or more good years in baseball.

"He's 31 now and a ballplayer really doesn't mature until he is around 28," Dark said. "Willie will play in every game if he can make it."

$617 PER GAME

This would give him a salary of about $617 per contest in the 162 game slate.

Mays had one of his most dramatic seasons in 1962 which saw him smash 49 home runs, bat .304, drive in 104 tallies and steal 19 bases.

The home run total was second to his all time best output of 51 which he hit at New York in 1955.

"The way that Mays could rise to the occasion late in a game really impressed me," Dark said. "He did all the good things that we needed when we needed them."

September marked a big comeback for Willie after he fainted on the 12th of the month in Cincinnati of exhaustion. This occurred as the Giants dropped into a six game losing streak. Then 15 days later he wandered off third base thinking three were out and was tagged to end a rally as the St. Louis Cardinals won an important contest, 7-4.

But three days later, Mays his his 47th homer of the season—a bases empty shot off Houston's Dick Farrell—in the eighth inning for a 2-1 win that insured the Giants a playoff with the Los Angeles Dodgers for the pennant.

Willie hit two more homers in the opening game of the three-game series which the Giants took to gain the World Series with the New York Yankees.

At yesterday's press conference, Dark said that the Giants would face a tougher season than in 1962.

"Everybody was pointing for the Dodgers last year," he said. "Now it's our turn."

Dark rated his Giants, the Dodgers, St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds as the main contenders for the National League pennant.

CARDS TOUGH

"The Cards have a pretty good lineup." Dark said and listed Curt Flood, Dick Groat, George Altman, Ken Boyer, Stan Musial and Bill White as among the top players.

Dark said that Orlando Cepeda, the Giants' unsigned first baseman, should have a good year.

"Potentially he is one of the best right-handed batters in the league and should hit between .340 and .350," Dark said. "He has the ability to hit to the opposite field along with that power. A .310 average is mediocre for a guy of his ability."

Cepeda finished at .306 last year and is said to be balking at a salary slash.

Seals Gain Notch In Ice Race

The San Francisco Seals gained a notch in their pursuit of the Portland Buckaroos last night when the Seals dispatched Vancouver 4-2 and Portland was held to a 4-4 tie by Edmonton.

The Seals now trail first-place Portland by three points in the frenzied battle for the top spot in the Western Hockey League's Southern Division.

Neither team is in action tonight, with the schedule showing Vancouver at Los Angeles and Spokane at Seattle.

The Seals and Canucks were 1-1 after two periods last night at the Cow Palace when Danny Belisle fired the puck by Vancouver goalie Gilles Villemure to put the San Franciscans ahead to stay.

7,429 CUSTOMERS

Nick Mickoski made it 3-1 only 63 seconds later on an assist from Belisle. Len Haley added the fourth San Francisco goal while Larry Popein tallied for Vancouver in the free-scoring third period before 7,429 customers.

The Buckaroos ran into the tough goaltending of Dennis Riggin at Edmonton. Riggin kicked out 41 shots while the Edmonton offense rallied to come from behind three times.

Portland led 2-0, 3-2, and 4-3. Tom McCarthy put the bucks ahead 3-2 but Don Chiz tied it up minutes later in the second period. Then Gordy Fashoway hit for Portland and Doug Messier tied it up again for the Flyers in the final 20 minutes.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

PATERSON, N.J.—Don McAteer, 181, Paterson, outpointed Dusty Rhodes, 182, New York, 8.

STOCKTON — Rey Asis, 119½, Stockton, outpointed Manny Linson, 119¾, Mexico, 10.

Marin Faces S.R. 'Spoilers' In Crucial Battle Tonight

San Rafael High School will again try to take the spoiler role tonight when the Bulldog cagers take on the Marin Catholic Wildcats in an important Marin Athletic League game on the Wildcats' floor.

The Bulldogs handed Tamalpais High its first league defeat of the season Tuesday and a win over Marin Catholic tonight would give Tam undisputed title to the league championship. Marin Catholic is the only team left with a chance to even tie Tam for the flag.

TAM IDLE

Tam, which is idle tonight, has a 10-1 record and Marin Catholic is 8-2 on the league slate. If Marin Catholic comes through tonight with a win, it will wind up the regular season Tuesday with a very big chance to tie for the championship as the Tam Indians will be the Wildcats' opponents in that Tuesday encounter.

In other games tonight, Novato plays at Redwood and Terra Linda hosts Drake High School. The B teams will open the action on the three fronts at 7 p.m., with the varsity teams following.

The first time San Rafael and Marin Catholic met, the Bulldogs dumped the Wildcats 50-40. Big scorers for the two teams are San Rafael's Rod Monti with a 17.2 average and Marin Catholic's Ron O'Connell with ah 15.0 average.

THIRD PLACE

Redwood (5-5) will have to beat Novato tonight to keep in contention for third place in the league. Redwood dropped Novato (2-8) in their first meeting 62-49.

Drake (5-5) likewise will have to win to keep in the running for third place, but an upset by Terra Linda (0-11) seems very unlikely. It will be the last game of the season for the Trojans of Terra Linda.

Celts Invade S.F. Tonight

The San Francisco Warriors look again tonight for their first victory over the Boston Celtics — and they'll seldom have more momentum than they have now. They'll slash at the Cow Palace, 8:15 o'clock.

The Warriors ran into a similar National Basketball Assn. jinx Saturday at Los Angeles and upset the Lakers 122-118 for the first time all year. Just to prove it was no fluke, they beat the Lakers Tuesday night, 111-109, in San Francisco.

Mill Valley Golf Results

Mrs. Hugh Richardson is the Sabella Trophy winner for the Mill Valley Women's Golf Club as she posted a 95-25—70 yesterday.

Results yesterday were:

Class A—Mrs. Douglas Norton, 87-15—72; Mrs. Eugene Philbin, 96-23—73; Mrs. George Prydz, 88-13—75; Mrs. Elbert Poarch, 98-23—75.

Class B — Mrs. Richardson, 95-25—70; Mrs. John Hurley, 98-24—74; Mrs. Parker Archer, 110-36—74.

Mays Thanks Giants For Helping Him Out Of Debt

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Willie Mays, the Say Hey veteran of the San Francisco Giants, has said hello to a $100,000 salary for the 1933 baseball season.

Charles "Chub" Feeney, vice president of the National League champions, made the announcement in San Francisco yesterday that made Mays unquestionably the highest-paid performer in the game.

Feeney didn't disclose terms of the new contract, but it was reliably reported that the 31-year-old center fielder would draw in the neighborhood of $100,000-$110,000. Mays drew a reported $90,000 last year.

Mays said he was happy the Giants were helping him reduce a few debts, some left over from his divorce last year.

"That's the big thing," Willie said. "Getting out of the hole is a lot more important than the amount of the contract."

The seemingly ageless Mays has been around since 1951 and is the only Giant left from the club which moved from New York.

Some feel the years began to tell on Mays last season when he collapsed in September at Cincinnati.

But a physical examination after the World Series with the New York Yankees revealed what opposing teams had known all along—Mays was in superior physical shape.

Raider's Sign Cal's George Pierovich

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders today announced the signing of former University of California fullback and linebacker George Pierovich to a 1963 contract.

Pierovich stands 6 foot 1 and weighs 230 pounds. He starred for the Golden Bears in both 1960 and 1961 and was a standout in the East-West Shrine game.

Four For Shoemaker

ARCADIA (AP)—Willie Shoemaker had four winners yesterday at Santa Anita where Fire Flash, $15.80, won the feature.

What Is 'Frillish' About State Small Craft Harbor Group?

If you are not one to seek out trouble, then never, never audaciously refer to the State Small Craft Harbor Commission as a dispenser of FRILLS. Because that's what happened. And now, wo-oo-sssh! Fireworks!

Understandably, there are ruffled feathers among boaters who are already provoked because of what is happening to their unclaimed gasoline tax money. That piggy bank is being cracked open and is being used to fix chuckholes in the highway. The boater who forgot to claim his tax would prefer to think of his oversight in terms of a gratuity for the betterment of boating.

THE SMALL Craft Harbor Commission takes the view that the bill recently introduced in the legislature is fair. It proposes to transfer these same gasoline taxes to the SCHC where it morally and logically belongs.

The next few years may see many necessary measures taken by legislature. This must be done to render better organization, protection, assistance, restrictions and controls to the boating industry and individual.

At the moment, I'm not overkeen on using the word pleasure to modify the word boating. Apparently it carries a different meaning to different people. For some it seems to offer an inaccurate connotation —slightly flippant. Especially when interpreted as "frill."

IN ALL seriousness, any entertainment that lures cars off the freeways is a boon to mankind. Furthermore, any sport that can interest the family as a group, is indeed a miracle.

The boating business itself is BIG business. And the boater, in the process of getting his "kicks," spends many a dollar with Marin merchants; and this also includes the many visiting boaters from out of county. Restaurants are much patronized, and not necessarily those fronting the water. Many times a boater will berth his craft, call a taxi and dine in the restaurant of his choice. Bait and sport shops cater to the boater. Ship-to-shore communications-radio shops, engine and electrical repairs and parts, skin diving centers, grocery markets, upholstery shops, the sail maker and fuel companies—they all serve the boater.

The boating influence is broadening the tax base. One marine in Marin has over 300 berths, and it plans to expand to 300 more. An estimate of the collective value of the cruisers would be about $10,000 average per boat. Making a total of $3,000,000. This could be compared to a subdivision of 150 $20,000 homes.

THE TAXES on a home versus boat is worth prying into too. The county assessment of a $20,000 cruiser is arrived at by taking 23 per cent of its fair market value. Then this figure is used to compte the actual tax for that particular area.

Let's say hypothetically, that this same man owns a $20,000 home in another area of the county. The taxes on his home will be figured with the same "yard stick." And if he lives in an area that has a lower tax rate, he may be surprised to find he pays a lower tax on his home than on his craft.

The boat owner receives fire and police protection, but the burden of responsibility for his comfort and safety rests mostly with the marina owner—who also pays taxes. Extra goodies for the home owner, in addition to police and fire protection are: street lights, curbs, sewers, schools and buses.

So what is a FRILL??

ALVIN ENTERTAINS THE BOSS

Chub Feeney, vice president of the Giants, got a good laugh out of a remark made by Manager Alvin Dark during a press conference in San Francisco yesterday. Dark predicted another tough fight as the Giants will be out to defend their National League pennant. Story on page 22. (AP Wirephoto)

Red Hot Battle In Cage Scoring Race

The Marin Athletic League individual scoring race may go right down to the wire before it is settled as Novato's Nick Willard leads Rod Monti of San Rafael by only two points, according to statistics compiled by the Independent-Journal.

With two games remaining, Willard has meshed 174 points for a 17.4 average, compared to 172 points and a 17.2 average for Monti.

In team statistics, Tamalpais High—which leads the league with a 10-1 record—is leading in offense with 576 points and a 52.4 average. Marin Catholic overtook Tam in the defensive department in the last two games to go out in front with a 40.2 average, compared to a 41.6 average for the Indians.

Odds Drop In Fullmer, Tiger Bout

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Rugged sparring drills were over today for champion Dick Tiger and former champion Gene Fullmer as the betting odds favoring Tiger continued to drop for their world middleweight title bout Saturday night.

Tiger, 33, opened a 7-1 fatheir San Francisco fight last October was announced. This didn't last long and the price dropped to 4-1. Now the Nigerian is no beter than 2-1 as more Fullmer backers appear, hoping Gene will win the championship for the third time in his long career.

The change in odds apparenly was based on the fact that Fullmer has been the more impressive in his ring preparations.

MEAN LITTLE

Veteran boxing observers were quick to point out, however, that in many cases gym performances mean little if anything.

"Tiger will do just enough exercising today and tomorrow to keep in shape and his weight right," said Jimmy August, Tiger's American trainer from New York and a skilled veteran in the trade.

Would there be any weight problem for Tiger?

"No, at least I hope not," August replied. "If there is, Dick will just have to solve it. In this fight, you can't be one pound over 160."

"Gene will be all right. He's ready to go now the full 15 rounds," said his manager, Marv Jenson.

Neither camp is making bombastic claims. But both fighters say they expect to do even better than in the first match.

Lavorante Hits 5 Month Mark

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Argentine boxer Alejandro Lavorante continued in a coma today, five months after being knocked unconscious in a heavyweight fight with Johnny Riggins of San Francisco Sept. 21.

The 26-year-old fighter has been confined to California Lutheran Hospital since the bout. He underwent three brain operations and has responded to therapy—but has been unable to open his eyes.

Bob Kennedy Is Cub Head Coach

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Bob Kennedy, 17-season veteran of the major leagues, was named head coach of the Chicago Cubs' 12-man coaching staff yesterday.

The appointment was announced by Col. Robert Whitlow, the Cubs' new athletic director.

The Chicago-born Kennedy's first managerial assignment came last year when he guided Salt Lake City to second place in the Pacific Coast League.

268 High At Country Club

Frank McConnell topped the keglers at Country Club Bowl for the week with a 268 game on his way to a 620 series in the Night Owls League.

His 268 stood as the high game of the week, but his series score was second-best to Ed Kaenel's 621 in the San Rafael Elks League. Kaenel had a high game of 255.

For the women, Milly Masci, a 149 average bowler in the Thursday Mixed Fours, was red hot as she tossed a 235 games and 545 series. Her 235 was the week's high for the gals. Vivian Gray had the high series as she rolled a 567 series in the Thursday Sleepers League.

Bay Counties Tennis Tourney Set In S.R.

Hal Wagner, manager-pro of the Rafael Racquet Club, today announced the opening of entry registration for the 66th annual Bay Counties Tennis Championships which will be held in San Rafael on the weekends of March 30 and April 6.

With the 10-court layout, the San Rafael club will enable the matches to be open to all comers. In the past, the championships were invitational affairs.

The events will include men's and women's singles, men's doubles and junior veteran's singles. The event will be climaxed by a Gussie Moran fashion show. The championships formerly were held at the San Francisco Olympic Club and Wagner said he hopes to also move the California State Championships to the Rafael Racquet Club.

Entries should be sent to Wagner at P.O. Box 1362 in San Rafael. Entries will close March 24.

Sports Car Rally Slated Sunday In Corte Madera

There will be a beginners class and a senior class in the Bay Area Rally Masters' "Rally De Soledad" which will be held Sunday in Marin.

The rally, a time and distance event, will start at the Corte Madera Shopping Center and end at Rancho Nicasio. First car will start at 11 a.m.

Jack Bunce of Mill Valley is the rally master for the event and pointed out there will be open check points all along the 100-mile course. Requirements of the rally call for all rules to stay within laws of the California Highway Patrol.

The following Sunday, March 3, the Square Wheel Touring Society will sponsor a "Blue Chip Auto Cross" starting at 9 a.m. at the 101 Motor Movies lot.

RARE BOOKS—These are a few of the priceless volumes included in a collection of 10,000 given to the Sonoma State College library by an anonymous donor. They are (1) the Work of Stowitts for the Fox-god; (2) a missal bound in mother-of-pearl with a silver cross; (3) a 17th century English Bible printed in 1652; (4) an example of hand-tooled leather binding; (5) a miniature almanac bound in gold tool leather; (6) filigree design with raised rosettes on each corner and (7) a small New Testament bound in carved cedar in Jerusalem.

School Bill Would Aid Poor Areas

(Third in a series.)
By JERRY RANKIN

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Plans to bolster state school aid and to take money from rich school districts to help poor one top a mixed batch of education bills confronting the legislature.

One measure, AB888 sponsored by the California Teachers Assn. and introduced by Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus (D-Reedley) would raise an additional 121 million dollars for schools.

Incorporated in it is the county-wide tax scheme which aims at taking unneeded money from the richer districts to help out the poorer districts. The bill also is backed by Dr. Maxwell Rafferty, new state superintendent of public instruction.

The Brown administration bill (AB1000-Crown) includes the countywide tax idea but would raise only 55 million dollars extra.

Still another bill (AB1167-Flourney) would shift money from rich to poor districts by reducing the schools' share of average daily attendance funds.

The requirement passed in 1961 requiring elementary students to study a foreign language would go into effect June 30, 1967 rather than June 30, 1965 under AB485-Porter.

SB292-Bradley would eliminate the requirement, while AB1079-Greene would allow the schools to decide which students take a foreign language.

Schools would be allowed to select elementary textbooks from state-approved lists under AB1031-Winton. This is the "multiple adoption" method — called by Rafferty the most important school bill — which already has stirred controversy.

Another major measure (SB 115-McAteer) would have the state pay most of the total cost of setting up special programs for the "culturally handicapped," meaning mainly Negroes and Mexicans in big cities.

A Commission on Intergroup Relations (SB170-Rodda) would be set up by the state to aid school districts with discrimination problems, principally "de facto segregation."

A constitutional amendment (ACA5-Rumford) would permit passage of local school bond issues by a simple majority instead of the present two-thirds. The needed vote would be lowered to 60 per cent under ACA1-Monagan.

The battle over whether the state superintendent of public instruction should continue to be elected has drawn a move (ACA8-Cologne) to divide the state into four districts, from which the present appointive Board of Education would be elected; the board in turn would appoint the superintendent.

Another (ACA2-Dymally), simply requires the board to appoint the superintendent.

One proposal (AB155-Winton) would: allow public school employees organizations to bargain with employers; require the employers to bargain with such groups while not discriminating against their members; and allow employees to join or not join such groups.

The minimum salary for credentialed teachers would rise from $4,500 to $5,000 a year under AB181-Gaffney.

The deadline for counties to submit master plans for unifying school districts would be extended from this September to 1965 under AB1238-Veysey.

Dr. Mordechai Kreinin, Michigan State University economist, has suggested that a business Peace Corps be enlisted to give technical assistance to under-developed countries.

Priceless Book Collection Presented To Sonoma College

An anonymous donor has given a priceless collection of more than 10,000 books to the Sonoma State College library, it was announced this week by Stephen Pickett, college librarian.

The gift is believed the largest book collection ever given to a state college library in California, Pickett said. Volumes covering virtually every field of the humanities were gathered for 30 years and at one time comprised two separate libraries.

Pickett said the books will support the college curricula in English, history, art and drama, adding "cultural breadth and depth" unattainable with only state funds.

Among the books are a 17th Century English Bible printed in 1652, several alphabet books dating back to 1830, miniature books and other rare volumes. There are more than 1,500 volumes on the subject of art alone.

Other subjects covered are biography, memoirs, travel, philosophy, poetry, fiction, theater, ballet, mythology, languages and geography.

Toy Pistol, Bob Kennedy Message Speeds New Citizen On His Way

A toy pistol and a message from Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy to immigration officials in San Francisco speeded up U.S. citizenship for Stanley K. Gobbin of 731 Delmar Avenue, Novato.

It all happened because Gobbin joined the Marin County Sheriff's Mounted Posse. He was a good member of the posse, but because he was not a citizen, he could not carry a sidearm. He had made a beautiful hand-tooled leather belt and holster which he wore in the color guard of the posse, but he was not allowed the side arm.

He did the next best thing and carried a toy pistol in the holster.

He tired of this fakery and wrote to Robert Kennedy about the dilemma. That was when Kennedy interceded to speed up the process of his becoming a citizen. He had the preliminary work done before the five-year residence requirement was up, Gobbin said.

Gobbin was born in Liverpool, England, Sept. 9, 1932. He graduated from Prescot College in Lancashire. Then he joined the Royal Air Force for two years.

After that Gobbin went into the insurance business, working for Commercial Union Insurance Co. This company was going to send him to Africa, but he decided he preferred the United States, so came here in 1957 on his own. He moved to Novato and went to work in San Francisco for the same company he had worked for in England.

About a year and a half ago, he went into the brokerage business, working for Wilson-Loustau and Co. in San Francisco.

In addition to the sheriff's posse, he is a member of the Commonwealth Club, English Speaking Union of the United States, and the Golden Gate Branch of the Royal Air Force Assn.

He met Prince Philip when the prince visited in San Francisco some time back.

"That is something I never did in my homeland," he said, proud of his American citizenship.

Single, Gobbin lives with his aunt, Mrs. Lilian Searle.

Deputies Stop Stolen Sedan

Sheriff's deputies stopped a stolen car, headed along Casa Buena in Corte Madera without headlights Tuesday night, but the two young occupants jumped out and vanished into the hills.

The recovered 1959 sedan is owned by Mary Durkee of 1495 Casa Buena.

Deputy Sheriff Hilary Lannon spotted the car headed north on Casa Buena without lights about 10:30 p.m.

Sedan Stolen Off Lot

A yellow 1955 Chevrolet sedan was stolen Monday night or yesterday morning from the Gem Auto Sales lot at 1530 Fourth Street, San Rafael, it was reported to San Rafael police yesterday by the lot owner, Richard McDonald.

Keep Best Face Forward Advises Portrait Artist

By CORENA GREEN

"Keep Your Best Face Forward" was the advice Emilie Romaine, San Francisco photographer, gave to members and guests of the San Francisco Yacht Club Auxiliary at a luncheon yesterday. She then proceeded to demonstrate on members of the audience how this can be done through artfully applied makeup.

Mrs. Romaine contends there is a certain ideal for a face just like for a figure and makeup can create the illusion of this ideal.

"THE MOST common problem in a face," she explained, "is eyes that are too close together. There should be the width of an eye between them."

Eyes can be made to be farther apart, she said, by lightening the area closest to the nose. Puffiness over the eyes can be made to disappear through the use of a dark cosmetic. Additionally, a long nose can be shortened through dark makeup applied at the bridge.

MRS. ROMAINE does not like to see too much color such as overly dramatic blues and greens for daytime wear. However, one can be more dramatic for the evening.

"The foundation makeup is a nice canvas on which to paint. The shape of the face can appear different by applying two shades of base such as light to accentuate the cheek bones and darker on the loose parts of the profile."

The speaker advised plucking eyebrows from the underside because as one gets older "eyebrows tend to slide down the face and it is better to be a highbrow than a lowbrow. Be sure," she counseled, "to use good tools in applying your makeup for eyebrow makeup." She scorns the tiny brushes which come in makeup kits, preferring a long thin paintbrush applying the color in short strokes. She also favored a black pancake makeup for the brows which she called "minstrel makeup." This year eyebrows will be thinner and gracefully arched, she predicted, but they should not look too perfect.

For newspaper publicity photographs she recommended dressing simply. "No prints, no bateau necklines and women look best when they lean slightly forward."

THAT SHE knows her subject was well demonstrated in the portraits of club members and other persons which she had just completed and which she displayed. Mrs. Romaine obviously studied her subjects carefully and in addition to makeup chooses background and props for dramatic effect.

"I don't believe portraits should look artificial," she explained, "that is why I don't retouch the pictures."

MARDI GRAS THEME

St. Raphael's Guild Sets Salad Bowl Luncheon Date

St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild will hold its annual Salad Bowl Luncheon on Feb. 26 in the school auditorium.

Chairman of the buffet is Mrs. Dominic Selmi with Mrs. Aloysius Nathe as co-chairman.

A Mardi Gras theme, with the decorations by Mrs. Charles Owen Jr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, will be carried throughout the event.

The festivities will begin at 11:30 p.m. and the spring fashion show is being planned by Mrs. William Nightingale.

Food chairman Mrs. John Diego has planned the menu; more than 200 assorted salads will be featured. Program chairman is Mrs. Aloysius Nathe, and Mrs. James Sanford is in charge of the hostesses. Commentator for the fashion show will be Mrs. David Vattuone.

Guild models are Mesdames William Ball, Albert Bonfiglio, Marius Cordone, John Dillman, George Eames, Roger Garety, Alfred Lang, Raymond Merz, William Parnow and Anthony Silveira.

Reservations chairmen are Mrs. A. E. Colombo and Mrs. John Sims of San Rafael.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Fred Palmer Being Honored At Birthday Dinner Tonight

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Fred Palmer is being honored on his birthday at a dinner party tonight by his bride, the former Mrs. Harold Fletcher at their home in Belvedere. Attending will be 20 guests, mostly family members.

MRS. THEODORE BERNARDI of Sausalito, known professionally in painting and weaving circles as Bee Bernardi, and her niece, Sheri Sammons, will leave the end of next month for a tour of Spain.

Sheri, who was born in San Rafael and lived in Santa Barbara until she came to stay with her aunt, is an artist, too, although she is only 16 years old. An exhibit of her work in watercolors, pastels, collages and paintings on silk is on display until March 1 at the Frame Ways Art Gallery in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Bernardi also does water colors, pastels and oils. She and Sheri are especially interested in the fishing villages along the coast of Spain and will be sketching as they travel.

MISS PHYLLIS KOTITE, who works for the United States Committee for the United Nations, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Kotite of Kentfield.

After a two-week visit here, Phyllis will go to Oregon and Washington on a speaking tour, then return to Washington, D.C., to continue her work with the State Department.

MRS. RALPH (KAY) NOAH is entertaining at a series of luncheons at her Belvedere home. The guest list includes each time from 18 to 25 friends in the Bay Area. The first of the series of six took place Monday and Tuesday. The next will be March 4 and March 5. Dates for the other two have not been set. Among Kay's guests Tuesday were San Franciscans Mrs. Jean Fay Webster and Mrs. Edward Bronson, former Belvedere resident. Mrs. Evan Lilly Noyes of Indianapolis, Ind., came with Mrs. Newton Longfellow. Mrs. Noyes, the former Clara Rideout of Marin, is the houseguest of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Longfellow at their San Anselmo home.

Another of Kay's luncheon guests was Mrs. Merritt Ruddock of Belvedere, who will leave March 10 with her husband on an around the world trip by plane and ship. He is one of the officers of the American Assembly established during the presidential administration of Dwight D. Eisenhower. Primary purpose of the trip is attendance at the assembly meeting at the University of Malaya in Kuala, Lumpur. Purpose of the assembly is to study cultural relations between the United States and foreign countries. The assembly has its headquarters at Arden House, the old Harriman mansion given to Columbia University. The Ruddocks will go first to Honolulu and then to Japan for several weeks.

In Hong Kong, the Ruddocks will visit Brig. Gen. Francis Ingall, a former British officer, and his wife, who lived in Belvedere, and their small son, Drew. The boy is the godchild of the Ruddocks and they will be in Hong Kong to celebrate Drew's second birthday.

The Belvedere couple will go to Singapore, Bangkok and India, then cruise on to various ports in Indonesia, then to Cairo and Istanbul and spend some time in Turkey. The Ruddocks will spend six weeks in Greece and cruise around the Grecian islands, fly to Rome from Athens, see Venice and travel through West Germany and the Scandinavian countries. They are not going to England because they spent much time there when Mr. Ruddock was first secretary in the United States Embassy in London from 1949 to 1952. The Ruddocks will board a freighter in Gothenburg, Sweden, for a 30-day cruise back to San Francisco. They will be home in mid-August.

World Affairs Meet For BPWC Tuesday

Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin will hold its World Affairs Meeting on Tuesday at Sabella's Restaurant at 7 p.m., announced chairman Mabelle Culpepper Co-chairman is Mrs. Olive Lienhard, civil defense chairman presiding will be Mrs. Viola W. Gottschalk, president.

Speakers for the evening will be Dr. Henry T. Gardner, professor at the College of Marin, whose subject will be "World Without War." Col. Lester W. Teter will speak on "Civil Defense." He will be introduced by Mrs. Jean Smith, County of Marin deputy assistant, disaster and civil defense.

Colonel Teter retired last year after more than 30 years service in the regular Army. He enlisted in 1931 in Los Angeles and saw peacetime service in the Philippines and the West Coast. He was a member of the first group to go into Australia in World War II and served with MacArthur until VJ Day. Again saw service in the early days of the Korea conflict with the 2nd Division. Has served in various posts in the U.S. and in Germany.

Guests will be Miss Hulda Wilson, world affairs chairman of the California State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs; Mrs. Ruth Snodgrass, chairman of the nominating committee of the California State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Nellie Phillips, second vice president of the Redwood Empire District of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Feeling Deliberate Relaxation

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Feel an ache between your shoulder-blades, tightness in your arms, a burning sensation in your eyes, or an over-all tired feeling?

Chances are those are signs of tension—that result of modern living with too much pressure for too much work in too short a time.

Most Americans don't know how to relax, even when they have the time, says a physical education professor at the State University of Iowa. And, continues Dr. Margaret Fox, the collapse-in-a-chair idea of relaxation doesn't help in learning to cope with tension.

RATHER THAN the absence of concentration often associated with relaxation, Dr. Fox says the process requires a conscious effort to "let go." It's this process that she teaches in a course for girls with health problems that limit their physical activity.

The first step in the course is recognizing tensions in various muscles.

THE NEXT — and difficult part— is to concentrate on relaxing one part of the body after the other, including arms, legs and on up to the forehead and eyes. Dr. Fox says it takes six to eight class sessions before the students even get the feeling of deliberate relaxation.

DR. FOX says she has taught about 200 coeds in the 10 years Iowa has offered the course. "They are most enthusiastic," she says of the students. "They go home and try to teach their families."

The instruction would be desirable for all students and for adults as well, Dr. Fox comments, but as yet there aren't enough teachers to offer the course on a broader basis. But there are general principles which can help the secretary with her concentration on typing, the businessman who drives long distances, and others whose work leads to muscle tightness and tension.

AGAIN, THE FIRST rule is recognizing tension. For example, rest one arm on a table, then raise the forearm off the surface and hold it until you feel the tightness—that's tension.

Dr. Fox says that working under pressure is particularly tiring because the stimulation spreads to muscles not involved in the actual job. For example, a typist concentrating on an important piece of work may move her mouth, tighten her face muscles or clench her toes.

DR. FOX SAYS: "The secret of making your muscles work for you instead of angainst you rests in switching to idling speed all those you don't need in whatever you are doing all through the day."

IN THE LANGUAGE of her course, Dr. Fox uses the term differential relaxation, meaning a deliberate effort to relax parts of the body which are not being used in a particular job—such as keeping legs relaxed while sitting at a desk or refraining from taking a vice-like grip on the steering wheel.

Red Clay Flower Pots Lend Decorative Touch

CHICAGO (UPI) — The earthy tones of red clay flower pots and saucers lend themselves to many interesting decorative and party tricks, with or without living plants inside.

The Potted Plant Information Center has a far out idea for a spring luncheon. It suggests serving the first course of a garden luncheon in a low red clay pot lined containing an avocado salad filled with cranberry ice. The pot is lined with aluminum foil.

IF YOUR dinner guests are barbecue fans, you can supply individual habachis. Line a number of large 8 to 12-inch clay pots with a double thickness of aluminum foil, set them on a matching red clay saucer and fill with started charcoal briquettes.

Each guest can cook his steak, frankfurters or hamburgers on an individual wire barbecue rack.

For a children's party, balloons on wooden sticks can be stuck into small clay pots filled with gravel or vermiculite. Or, for some lively south-of-the-border fun, fill a large clay pot with candy and suspend it from the ceiling in hanging basket or "pinata" fashion.

THE FIRST child to break the pot showers the party with the candy treasure.

If your guests are gourmets, you can give small red clay pots with growing herbs as party favors.

To prevent steel wool or other metal scouring pads from dripping or rusting, store them in small porous clay pots or saucers. For outdoor picnics, a large red clay bulb pan makes a handy bread basket.

Home hobbyists and housewives also are finding that decorator-designed red clay pots are useful in many ways.

AN ENTIRE wall, screen or room divider can be formed by threading pots on steel or wooden rods or doyels. Chair-side planters can be made by glueing large-sized pots together in pyramid form.

San Rafael Volunteers Win Awards

Five members of the San Rafael General Hospital Service Volunteers have received awards.

They are Mrs. Leslie Turner, 500 hours (red stripe); Mrs. Donald Walling, 400 hours; Mrs. Donald E. Wallace, 300; Mrs. Raymond Bleasdale and Mrs. H. L. Gray, volunteer emblems denoting 24 hours.

Miss Betty Cannon, who was welcomed as a new member, is now working toward her 24-hour emblem.

Mrs. Walling, volunteer president, announced that Mrs. John Sauter has resigned as secretary and that Mrs. King A. Fillmore has been appointed to replace her.

Who's Behind That Mysterious Knock?

A "mirror" in the front door makes it possible for a home owner to see who is behind that mysterious knock at the door without the caller knowing he is being watched.

This mirror is not a regular home mirror, but a transparent or two-way mirror for observing without being seen.

The transparent mirror from inside the house appears as a regular window. But to the person outside the door, it looks like a mirror.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

Even The Worst Problem Child Really Wants To Behave Well

Do you have a "problem child"? I've worked with problem children for 20 years. They've taught me several important lessons. Here they are:

Even the worst problem children want to behave. They want to learn. They want their parents to love them, and to be proud of them. Only a few abnormal personalities don't care what people think about them. Given a real chance, your problem child will try hard to be good. He doesn't enjoy the doghouse.

Normal boys and girls get into trouble while growing up. They all become problem children temporarily. Don't conclude that your son is a moral leper when he gets caught breaking the law. He can change. Remember also that boys are arrested nowadays for doing the things we did freely, when we were young.

Your problem child will keep trying you out. He wants to find the limits of his conduct by teasing you. He'll make you so angry you'll lose your temper and say things you'll regret later. That's part of life for parents of problem children. Be sure to set up clear rules. Let him know in advance what he can and cannot do. Try to be consistent. Then he'll be less difficult.

Problem children turn out better than their parents expect. Eventually the kids realize that it is smart to conform. Eventually they learn that the rewards for good conduct far exceed the rewards for bad conduct so they settle down. They grow up; after graduation they marry. They get responsible jobs and raise nice families. The ones who usually turn out best of all are the former mean little boys who drove their mamas wild. They're world beaters once they get squared away. So take heart. The future for your problem child will be better than the past.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "When my 3-year-old son is bad I tell him I don't love him any more. Is this wise?"

(A) No, it is unwise. No matter how bad he may be he needs to sense your love and support. You can disapprove of what he does without withholding love.

Spring Takes Wrap For Milady's Moods

NEW YORK (AP)—Fickle, fitful spring is so like a woman that nobody really understands her, but the coatmakers at least have learned to live with her.

Without trying to perceive the whys and wherefores of her vaccilations, they accept them as a part of her never-dull personality and profit by preparing for them.

Resulting is a great variety of styles, fabrics and colors than at any other time of the year, for it is not a one-coat season.

RECENTLY the New York Coat and Suit Association aptly demonstrated this with a sampling of spring coat collections as diverse as females themselves.

There are all kinds of silhouettes because there are all types of shapes to the spring dresses and suits that coats are made to cover. Some are eased over flowing, fitted or plumb lines. Others are straight from shoulders to hem with underpinning in front. Some have cascading back fullness like a choir boy's surplice. Some swagger into belted trench types.

TISSUE light coats do little more than shield bare arms from too much air conditioning, while warmer but lightweight suedes have shaggy fox collars to burrow into at a change in the weather.

Inspiration reaches from the bathroom where a shower robe is the basis for a casual coat design to the exotic spots where the rajah coat and the matador's jacket are captured in feeling.

Powder blue and pink are the supreme colors in spring coat fashion. Other consistently used hues are red, white and blue, alone or patriotically together.

FABRICS are sleek and silken, or crisp and linenlike. Or they are texturally interesting because of twists, bubbles, loops, boucles, souffles, nubs and puffs.

There are all moods of coats, for all moods of woman, and all moods of spring.

Now Is Time To Evaluate Child's Work In School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Now is the time to evaluate your child's progress in school. There is still sufficient time to correct problems. Tutoring may be helpful if the proper situation exists.

Difficulties in adjustment which are common in September should not continue now. Any problems which are present should be given careful consideration.

Analyze the problems and their causes. You can obtain assistance at your school. Your child's teachers can describe the problems in detail. A check for the possible causes is important. This can be done in cooperation with the school. Perhaps, you will want to seek outside advice from your family doctor or other specialist. Remember that physical (eyes, ears, general health, etc.) and emotional problems interfere with a child's ability to learn.

TUTORING CAN be more successful if specific difficulties which block learning are corrected. In some cases the tutoring will be helpful in easing emotional problems, while in other cases it may be harmful.

Your decision to begin tutoring should be a joint one between you, the school, other specialists, and the child. The child's attitude must be considered. If he objects, you should not begin tutoring until he has been convinced of the value.

Once a decision for tutoring has been made, chances for success will be highly dependent upon the choice of an instructor. This should be based upon the type of problem and causes. Should the teacher be male or female? There could be a good effect from a male in a family in which the father is not home very often.

SHOULD THE tutor be a regular teacher or a remedial specialist? This really depends upon the individual and the child's problem. Look for someone who is familiar with the particular difficulty. The tutor should have a warm friendly personality. The relationship with the child must be enthusiastic, but relaxed, encouraging, and properly structured. There should be a feeling of progress. Although major results may be slow, the child needs to see some early success.

Careful thought should be given to the length and number of sessions. Three quarters to one hour appears to be an appropriate time. A longer period may be too tiresome while a shorter period is not sufficient to accomplish any real instruction in the academic subjects.

THE NUMBER of times per week depends upon the type of problem and the child's total schedule. In most cases, the child has many other responsibilities. He needs time for regular school work and relaxation. This matter should be discussed with the tutor and the student. The sessions should be close enough so that there is continuity in the instruction.

Tutoring generally serves a particular need. Do not continue it beyond this point. You do not want it to become a "crutch". Perhaps it should be dropped gradually so that the child maintains his new confidence.

YOU SHOULD recognize that tutoring is not the answer for all academic problems. It can be valuable if the atmosphere and conditions are proper. Base your decision upon the problems and causes. Look for answers. Do not make a hasty decision without careful searching.

Music Reception To Follow Final Concert Program

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Goldschmidt will be hosts Friday night at a reception for the musicians participating in the third and final program in the current Candlelight Concert series.

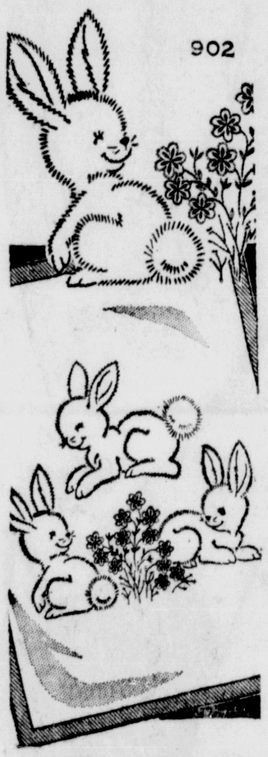

The reception will be held at their home in Homestead Valley following the concert held in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

Guests will be the three soloists, soprano Carole Bogard, tenor James Schwabacher and baritone Edgar Jones and members of the Bach to Mozart players for the evening. They are Raymond Duste, Lloyd Gowen, Everett O'Bannon, Michael Gerling, Elizabeth Bell, Ellen Dessler, Milton Nadel and Roy Bogas.

Mission Society Hears Talk By Cuban Refugee

The Pan American Baptist Church of San Pablo presented an informative program at the Woman's Mission Society at Loma Verde Community Baptist Church Tuesday.

The Pan American Baptist Church, which has been in existence only 15 months, has sponsored the entry of six refugee families from Cuba in the past six months, Mrs. A. N. Ramirez, of the church, said. Several other churches have joined them to offer financial assistance, but Pan American has taken the responsibility of finding them homes and jobs. The Pan American congregation is almost entirely Spanish speaking.

One of the Cuban refugees, Dr. M. J. De Soto, spoke to the group about conditions in Cuba. He said the revolution, originally started to free the people, but now propaganda preaches hatred for the United States and glorifying Russia.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. T. Gonzales were also with the visiting group. He is pastor of the Pan American Church and also the Spanish chaplain at San Quentin.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

You May Be Better Player Than Partner But He Is In Game Too

It goes without saying that you're far better player than your partner, but don't make it too obvious. If you let the poor beast win a trick now and then he will be pathetically grateful.

The principle to remember is that your partner's tricks count just as much as yours.

And just think how much pleasure you bring into his life when you let him defeat an opponent's contract.

Opening lead — ♡ 2

West, interested in his own tricks rather than in his partner, opened the singleton heart.

HEART ACE

Declarer put up dummy's ace of hearts, drew trumps, and led a club to dummy's king.

South continued with dummy's queen of clubs, and West ducked again in the hope of embarrassing declarer.

South got to his hand by ruffing a heart and led another club toward dummy.

END PLAY

West took the ace of clubs and got out with a club, hoping to escape the end play but he was not agile enough.

Declarer led a diamond from dummy and played the ten from his hand to make West win the trick.

RUFFING TRICK

West's opening lead would produce a ruffing trick only if East had the ace of hearts or the ace of spades.

Otherwise South would surely draw trumps before West could ruff.

West could defeat the contract by thinking of his partner's ruffing tricks. West should open the ace of clubs, give his partner a ruff, get back with the ace of diamonds and give East another club ruff.

The principle to remember is that your partner's tricks count just as much as yours.

In 1912, former President Theodore Roosevelt revealed he was again a candidate for the presidency, declaring: "My hat is in the ring!"

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Feb. 21, the 52nd day of 1963 with 313 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning star is Venus. The evening star are Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1848, John Quincy Adams collapsed on the floor of the House of Representatives. He died two days later.

In 1868, President Andrew Johnson ordered Secretary of War Edwin Stanton to vacate his office.

In 1885, the Washington Monument was dedicated after 37 years of construction.

A thought for the day—Theodore Roosevelt said: "No man is justified in doing evil on the ground of expediency."

I-J wins 3 top newspaper awards (for our readers)

. . . In competition with the leading newspapers in California ☆ Annual Better Newspaper Contest

It was quite a day for the Independent-Journal. Three first places in the Better Newspaper Contest of the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

Best Front Page. Best Editorial Page. Best Typography. Quite a day, indeed . . . when you consider your own home paper was up against all major newspapers in California.

The plaques will look mighty handsome on the wall. But if the judges are right, what they represent looks best in your home—the newspaper itself. For your readership, your concern with what a newspaper ought to be—this is the one FIRST PLACE which we or any newspaper must try to win, day in, day out.

And that isn't easy. It takes the combined efforts of editors, advertising men, reporters and printers, engravers and linotypers, pressmen and columnists—a small army of people.

It takes people who like putting ink and ideas into action . . . in creating a better newspaper.

We'll try to keep on putting the awards and rewards of reading into the paper . . . not just on the wall.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

A Thoughtful Husband Makes Life More Pleasant For Paralyzed Wife

A British engineer made life more pleasant for his paralyzed wife by designing an electro-mechanical unit for remote control of many electrical gadgets in the room. It is called the Selectascan and is controlled by a microswitch located near her mouth. This woman had polio six years ago and is confined to a cabinet respirator because of severe paralysis.

VAN DELLEN

Now she can ring bells and turn on and off lights, electric fan, and heater. She has full control of her wireless, tape recorder, record player, television set, telephone, and intercom system and has been able to write a book, using the tape recorder. The microswitch is connected to her mirror, allowing her to see all about the room, including the activities of her family and friends.

THIS TYPE of equipment is expensive but lessens the frustration of being alone and dependent upon others for every little thing.

Watching an exciting football game gives the heart a workout. Dr. Kenneth Rose of the Nebraska University Medical School made electrocardiograms of a spectator during the Missouri-Nebraska game. The pulse increased from 75 to 145 beats per minute during a pass interception.

THE AMERICAN Diabetic Assn. urges diabetics to keep a two-month supply of insulin or oral hypoglycemic tablets on hand at all times. They also should store enough canned foods, dry cereals, and powdered milk to permit them to follow their prescribed diet.

Why? Many diabetics would be trapped by their disease if a nuclear war occurred and they had no medication. Those requiring large amounts of insulin might survive all the bullets and bombs but might not live 10 days without this extract. And this is not a small problem considering there are two and one-half million diabetics in this country.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

COLD HANDS

M. T. writes: I am 15 years old and am always bothered with cold hands, especially when I'm active or nervous. Why is this?

REPLY

The small blood vessels of the hands and feet are under the control of the sympathetic nervous system. When these nerves are irritable, the blood vessels constrict and the skin becomes cold. The phenomenon is seen most frequently in the high-strung and in those with low metabolism.

STOMACH GROWLING

L. W. writes: I frequently am embarrassed by by grumbling and growling stomach. What can I do about these noises?

REPLY

These sounds are more noticeable when the stomach is empty and eating often helps. Meanwhile, pass off the sounds as a joke or pay no attention because the persons nearest you may think their stomachs are growling.

FOLK REMEDIES

J.W. writes: My husband is always sick to his stomach. Someone advised him to take a mixture of iodine, honey, and vinegar once a day. What would you advise?

REPLY

A physician who will diagnose your husband's problem and prescribe a modern remedy.

SHAPE OF RINGWORM

M.S. writes: Are all ringworms round?

REPLY

No—nor are they worms but fungi that produce infections such as athlete's foot and barber's itch. Some of these lesions present a circular appearance, which may have suggested the prefix "ring."

Today's Health Hint—When you rent a car, specify it be equipped with seat belts.

Sonoma State, UOP Offer Marine Course

Sonoma State College and University of the Pacific will offer a workshop on marine and field biology at Dillon Beach April 8 through 13.

The workshop group, which will study marine life of Tomales and Bodega bays and local land animals and plants, will be limited to 235 students. The group will operate out of the Pacific Marin Station at Dillon Beach.

Labor Unrest Causing Concern To Business

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Labor unrest is causing many business leaders today to review policies. General Motors, for example, says it's building up its steel stocks just in case.

Most reports from steel labor and management sources indicate small expectation of a strike this summer. There could be one if the steel workers choose to reopen the contract in a move to raise wages or fringe benefits, and if management refuses to budge from its stand on holding the cost line.

General Motors says it's only prudent to build up its stocks to around one million tons above current needs, so it wouldn't have to shut down right away in case of a strike.

This announcement set off a rise in steel stock prices, on the supposition other companies might follow suit, and steel mills have a bonanza, however short-lived.

With steel output still far below capacity and new orders coming in at only a modest rate, there ordinarily would seem to be every reason for both labor and management to avoid any showdown this year.

And neither side has been putting out belligerent statements, usually an indication of go-slow attitudes. Some observers have even doubted if the contract would be reopened at all in view of the sluggish market. Others feel it might be reopened for negotiations of minor fringe benefits.

This year, however, labor-management relations have turned touchy because of the dispute over automation. And steel workers may be just as edgy about that as any other segment of the labor force.

Such demands as the steel unions have been talking about have been tied to that issue—three months vacation every five years for older workers, longer vacations for others, shorter work weeks. All these are part of labor's general proposals for spreading the work to counteract automation.

And a number of this winter's strikes have been sparked and prolonged by proposals for or fears of automation that would cut the number of jobs.

Management argues it must mechanize further because of rising labor costs or to compete with American or foreign rivals that have the latest machines. And it's finding it hard these days to raise prices to meet increased production costs.

Job security has become the hottest issue in labor circles. Some unions have struck to prevent automation or cuts in the work force assigned to any one piece of work. Many of the leaders are urging a cut in the length of the work week as the only way to combat unemployment right away.

The Kennedy administration opposes this, saying it would defeat the best way to create more jobs—getting the economic growth rate into high gear.

But neither labor nor management has accepted the administration ideas of how to accomplish this. And as the split in labor and management thinking on the problem widens, the uncertainty plays an increasingly larger role in business planning for the weeks and months ahead.

NOTICE OF IMPROVEMENT HAWTHORNE TERRACE SPECIAL ASSESSMENT DISTRICT NO. 6

Notice IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 17th day of September, 1962, the Sanitary Board of the Richardson Bay Sanitary District, Marin County, California, adopted its Resolution of Intention No. 463 wherein it did declare that in its opinion the public interest and convenience required, and that it was the intention of said Board to order the following acquisitions and improvements in and for said District, to wit:

(a) The construction and installation of sanitary sewer mains, standard manholes and rod holes, together with necessary wye branches, laterals and appurtenances in County roads, State highways, railroad crossings, highway crossings and in easements to be acquired along various routes particularly described as follows:

(i) Beginning at the intersection of Gilmartin Drive and Tiburon Boulevard running thence Northwesterly along Tiburon Boulevard to a pumping station to be constructed Westerly of the intersection of Rock Hill Drive.

(ii) Beginning in the Westerly extension of Palmer Drive in Little Reed Park approximately 50 feet Easterly of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way; running thence Northeasterly and Easterly along Palmer Drive to the Easterly terminus thereof; thence in an easement to be acquired Southwesterly to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way to Point "A"; thence Southeasterly through the lands of the Belvedere Tennis Club to a pumping station to be constructed Westerly of the intersection of Rock Hill Drive, together with a sewer to be constructed in an easement Northwesterly from Point "A" adjacent to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way to the lands of Miller.

(b) The construction and installation of a sewage pumping station Westerly of the intersection of Rock Hill Drive complete with pumps, motors, piping, reinforced concrete, wet pit and dry pit, comminutor, electrical equipment, control buildings and appurtenances, including connection with the existing sewers serving Hawthorne Terrace and the acquisition of lands and easements necessary therefor.

(c) The construction and installation of a force main from the pumping station in the vicinity of Rock Hill Drive Northwesterly along Tiburon Boulevard to the existing force main connecting with the existing District Pumping Station serving Del Mar Estates and the acquisition of necessary easements and permits necessary therefor.

(d) The construction and installation of a force main and/or gravity sewer main and appurtenances from the Northwesterly terminus of the existing force main from the Del Mar Estates pumping station and running Northwesterly along Tiburon Boulevard to a point opposite the District's Trestle Glen Sewage Treatment Plant; thence crossing the Northwestern Pacific Railroad to a connection with the plant piping.

(e) The construction and installation of a secondary clarifier as an addition to the Trestle Glen Sewage Treatment Plant, together with necessary piping, motors, sludge collecting equipment, reinforced concrete clarifier structure and appurtenances.

(f) The installation of an additional ejector unit in the Del Mar Pumping Station including air compressor piping control equipment and appurtenances.

(g) Repairs and improvements necessary to correct deficiencies in the existing Hawthorne Terrace sewer system, including the extension of sewer mains and laterals, replacement of defective sewers, construction and installation of manholes, rod holes, intercepting sewers and appurtenances and the acquisition of necessary easements and rights in the existing sewer system.

(h) The acquisition of easements and encroachment permits for the construction, maintenance and operation of said sewer mains along the routes above described.

(i) The acquisition and construction of work, property and easements auxiliary to any of the above and necessary to carry out the same.

(j) The acquisition of disposal rights in the existing sanitary sewerage and sewage disposal facilities of the Richardson Bay Sanitary District.

All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevations shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications preliminarily approved therefor by the Sanitary Board of said District and on file for public inspection in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the ground to a grade different from such surface as it formerly existed, and that to said extent said grades are hereby changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.

Said contemplated acquisitions and improvements, in the opinion of said Board, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the costs and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundaries of which district are the composite and consolidated area shown on the map thereof on file in the office of the Secretary to which reference is hereby made for further particulars.

The estimated cost of said project is $192,542.77.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided in the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 (Division 10 of the Streets and Highways Code), the last installment of which bonds shall mature not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of July next succeeding ten months from their date.

The descriptions of the acquisitions and improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description thereof. The plans and profiles of the work, and maps and descriptions as contained in the Engineer's report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is further given that the District Engineer pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 6th day of February, 1963, file with the Secretary of said District his report in writing on said acquisitions and improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Board did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that Monday, the 18th day of March, 1963, at outwardly calm, inwardly anxious, basically desperate.

owners want out of almost new 4 bdrm., 2 bath eichler that has been mis-decorated. alas, too late, they discovered that they're just not the contemporary type—(more suited to the "early oakland"), a sincere effort and a few hundred would make this home worth $2,000 more than it will go for — you'd almost call it speculative

ALL ARCHITECT DESIGNED

● Sparkling View $35,500

San Francisco Bay gleams and sparkles as part of the vista from this Oriental styled 3 bedroom, 2 bath home. The rugged native stone fireplace reaches to the beamed ceiling of your living room. Ceramic tile counters coordinated with Westinghouse appliances make mealtime a festival for the housewife. #86.

● Atrium Seclusion . . . $41,500

Here in the secluded atrium off the generous kitchen and family room the architect has created the ideal opportunity for family outdoor living. Interior decor with tasteful wallpapers and luxury carpeting shows the painstaking cooperation between architect and decorator. Radio intercom saves steps for all the family. #117.

● Spaciousness $43,500

An attractively designed coach lamp at the double entry doors creates a feeling of warmth and gracious welcome as you enter this beautiful 3 bedroom, 2 bath home. Spaciousness, is the keynote throughout. The discriminating buyer will appreciate the gold toned bath fixtures, abundant storage and the kitchen with all GE appliances. The formal dining room invites the appreciation of your guests. #187.

● Roman Bath $45,000

Among the delights of this 3 bedroom, 2½ bath beauty are a marble fireplace, 18'x24' social room with wet bar, radio intercom, fully equipped kitchen with built-in desk, onyx entry, luminous ceiling over the sumptuous Roman bath, landscaping and all the many custom features you would expect in a golf course home. #33.

● Elegance $45,000

Lustrous oak floors will appeal to you in this 3 bedroom, 2 bath traditional home on the 15th fairway. Lavish use of textured ceramic tile in kitchen and bath for ease of maintenance. Artistically designed 2 way fireplace separates living room from the hardwood paneled family room. Inviting benches are already a part of the deck overlooking the fairway allowing spectator relaxation. #48.

Mill Valley Junior Chamber Workshop

The Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a leadership training motivational workshop from 8 to 11:30 a.m., March 3, at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael.

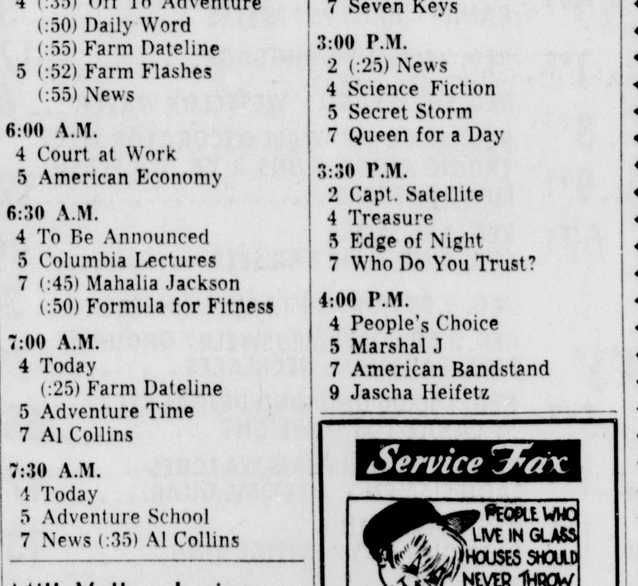

LuVain G. Bue, a Dale Carnegie organization executive, will discuss work attitudes, human relations, communications, enthusiasm, memory and latent abilities with junior chamber members and guests from Willits, Ukiah, Healdsburg, Petaluma, Santa Rosa, Novato, San Rafael and Mill Valley.

Dominican Concert Series Set

Pianist Marcus Gordon will open the spring series of the Dominican College concert artists programs Monday at 8:30 p.m. in Angelico Hall of Dominican College in San Rafael.

Gordon began his musical career with Ada Clement at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music. Later study with Josef Lhevinne on fellowship at the Julliard Graduate School added to Gordon's preparation for concert tours in the United States, Europe and Canada.

He has appeared in numerous Bay Area solo recitals and San Francisco Symphony concerts and is well known as a teacher of prize-winning young artists.

Gordon will play "Arietta" by Leonardo Leo; Sonatas in A. Major, Scarlatti; "Prelude and Fugue in E Major," Bach; "Fantasia in D Minor" and "Rondo in D Major," Mozart; "Sonata Op. 110 in A-Flat Major," Beethoven and selected short works by Brahms, Ravel and Chopin.

Alcoholics To Talk About Problem On Air

Another discussion of problem drinkers and how they have overcome their excessive drinking will be featured tomorrow on KTIM-FM at 9 p.m., when the station presents the monthly "Alcoholics Anonymous Meeting of the Air."

The participants, all alcoholics, remain anonymous. They discuss the various approaches to their problems which have made it possible for them to maintain sobriety.

The broadcast is heard on the last Friday of each month at 100.9 mc.

CENTER VIEWS

Informal interviews . . . after hours . . . with Center personalities

By LOU MALVINO, President, Corte Madera Center Merchant's Council

A visit to the Harmony Music Center and a chat with owners Irving and Clara Rosenberg is always a pleasure for "musicians" and record buffs.

I use "musicians" in quotes for I often wonder whether my part-time hobby puts me in that category.

A record buff I am, and the Harmony Center has a special, almost Pacific Coast fame for providing a most unusual service.

In one section of the store, they have the most complete selection of collectors records in old 78s, 45s, singles and albums, covering everything from pop's like "Stardust" and jazz from greats, Charlie Ventura, Stan Getz and Shelly Manne.

Irving tells me that people come all the way from the Peninsula and San Francisco, referred to him by other record stores.

A regular visitor is Mugsy Spanier, the famous jazz-great, who now resides in Sausalito.

Irving and Clara hold another distinction. Being in the business for over 24 years, they were one of the first three record stores in San Francisco.

The backgrounds of these folks are extremely impressive, and it's no wonder that they command respect from the public they serve.

A winning combination in any business is to be expert in your field and in the goods you represent, and be able to recommend, professionally, the best bet and buy to meet the customer's needs.

In running through the extensive 100-foot rack of record selections on the floor (there's more in the back room) I noted almost every name label, including the exclusive "Command" and "Time" brands (for lucky people with rich stereos) and native music from countries including the Ukraine, Greece, Syria, and even Lithuania.

I also was impressed with one section carrying a stock of over 1,000 different record needles!

It's a very complete store, and I can understand why it has become a hub for discriminating buyers, and those looking for the latest and most complete stock.

Oh yes, besides records, Harmony carries complete lines of all related equipment, including stereo, Hi-Fi, radio, TV, sets, plus modern transistor units. And they service and repair, too.

Harmony has been at the Corte Madera Center for about three years, and we would like to join their many regular customers in extending our appreciation for their presence and service.

Last minute note: Irving told me at the last moment that he is having Eddie Peabody, the great banjoist at his store in the mall all day Washington's Birthday.

Eddie's many fans are invited to drop by and talk to Eddie and receive autographs for their albums.

Plants Growing After Big Fire

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Last spring a roaring fire destroyed a quarter of a block of business establishments in downtown Des Moines.

Now a sharp-eyed passerby has discovered that deep in the hole from which debris was removed are several growing tomato plants and a couple of broccoli plants.

Russell Howell, manager of one of the stores, says he had a full line of garden seeds on hand at the time of the fire.

Removal Of Soil

Heavy soil can usually be removed from children's clothes by soaking in borax water before washing. For grease or oil stains, rub a commercial household cleaning detergent on the spots before washing with regular detergent.

Municipal Responsibility In Accidents

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chances are that a motorist injured in an automobile accident caused by a defective traffic signal would be unable at present to obtain compensation from the municipality.

But Patrick Herbst, a German law student who wrote his master of laws thesis on municipal responsibility in traffic accidents, believes there is a definite legal trend for holding cities liable in such cases.

Herbst said most municipalities are liable under statutory law for injuries sustained in accidents resulting from their failure to keep streets unobstructed and in good repair. He contends maintenance of traffic signals and signs are just as much a part of a municipality's responsibility for safe conditions.

Herbst's thesis at the University of California, "Municipal Tort Liability for Inadequate Traffic Regulations," was published by the American Safety Foundation.

The main argument against a city being held responsible for accidents caused by traffic control system failures, Herbst said, is that traffic regulation is a police power and therefore immune from liability. Street maintenance, on the other hand, relates to the corporate powers of a city, which carry liability under common law.

Generally, Herbst said, courts have ruled against plaintiffs who contended maintenance of traffic signals fell under a city's corporate duties. However, there have been some dissenting opinions by prominent jurists, he said.

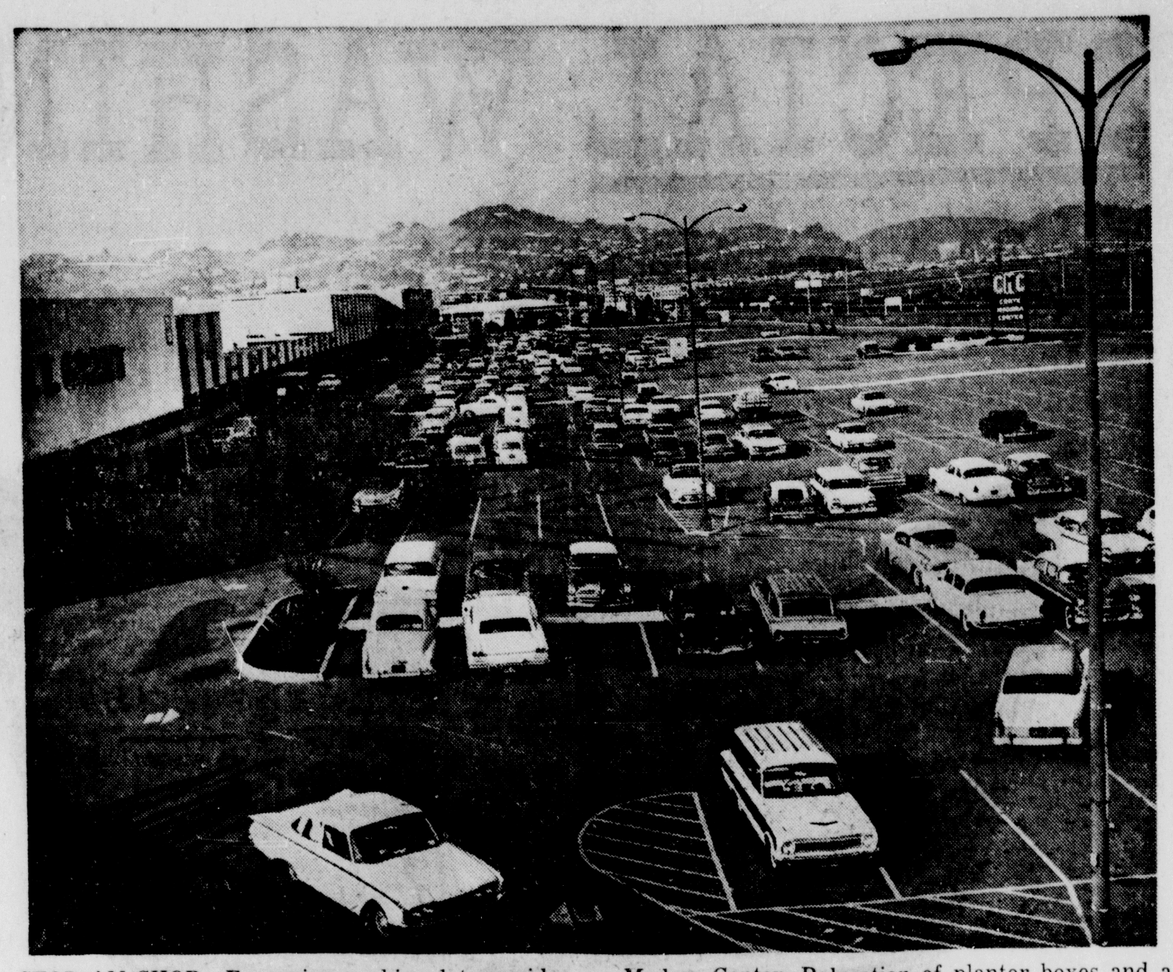

Herbst said that in several cases the question of whether communities were liable was decided on whether or not municipal statutes expressly give city officials responsibility for maintaining traffic signals. If such a responsibility was in the statutes, Herbst said, courts have ruled that municipalities were liable for injuries resulting from signal failures.

In cases where setting up signals and signs was not specifically made a municipal duty by statute, courts ruled it was a police power and the city had immunity, Herbst said.

Herbst urged that liability for accidents resulting from defective signals be extended to all cities, regardless of how the statutes read. He believes such action would guarantee safer traffic conditions because the liability would put pressure on city authorities to maintain controls more efficiently.

Sharpen Scissors

Sharpen scissors by cutting sandpaper. Pasting a strip of sandpaper on the back of a ruler also works well for sharpening knives.

STOP AN SHOP—Expansive parking lot provides convenience for hurried weekday shoppers and plenty of space for the weekend rush at the Corte Madera Center. Relocation of planter boxes and a shift in the traffic pattern is expected to make it even easier for motorists. (Independent-Journal photo)

Center's New Parking Plan Definite Assist

Busy shoppers are finding the newly improved Corte Madera Center parking plan a definite assist.

The work currently underway calls for relocation of the main and store front planter boxes, and new curbing to simplify the traffic flow. Complete overall striping of the relocated parking spaces has been completed.

The extensive revamping of the area is due to the rapid growth of the center, and physical changes in new and expanded stores. The new system when completed will make maximum use of all space with attention on providing the greatest convenience to shoppers.

Greatest change will be noted at the main entrance and egress points where curbing and heavy flow lines will control auto movement through the center's parking periphery. Traffic into these main boulevards from secondary lanes will also merge smoothly and quickly.

Charred Barrels Called Accident

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)— Maybe it's legend, but here is one explanation of why bourbon whisky is aged in charred barrels:

In bygone Kentucky days a slave sneaked into a cellar to steal a dring. He dropped his candle and ignited the barrel. Before the fire was put out the barrel became charred.

Barrels were hard to come by —and the next batch of bourbon was stored right back in the burned wood. Someone then discovered that whisky from the charred barrel tasted better than the other kind.

This Family Flying High

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Charles Morat is the mother of an air-minded family.

Her oldest son, Charles, is a colonel in the Air Force. Another boy, Warren, works for Pan American Airways and the third is operations chief for National Air Lines.

Mrs. Morat's daughter was an airlines stewardess before she married a Navy pilot.

The youngest son, Larry, wed an American Airlines stewardess.

Here's A Look At Travel To Rome In Old Days

WASHINGTON (UPI)—All roads led to ancient Rome and the travelers of those days were closely akin to the modern American tourist.

According to the National Geographic Society, the Romans stopped at motels, complained about the food and lodging, carried travelers' checks and often spent more than they could afford.

They also chanced such hazards as professional guides and being sold into slavery.

The travel boom of those days was encouraged by the fact that Roman roads stretched from Scotland to the Sahara and, before the Roman Empire fell, had built up a network of 49,635 miles.

National Geographic researchers have compiled this vacation guide book for ancient Romans:

Most Romans rode in the most expensive carriage they could afford. Some slept in their carriages on in tents. Others stayed at expensive inns. Strabo, a Greek geographer, offered recommendations for the best places to eat en route.

For the less well-to-do, there were places where a Roman could pull up his chariot and spend the night. Like the fleabag of today, they left a lot to be desired. Innkeepers watered the wine, stuffed mattresses with rushes instead of feathers, and not only overcharged but often conspired with highwaymen to sell guests into slavery.

The poet Horace waxed indignant about "knavish publicans." He told of one stop where he was kept awake by noisy frogs and the amorous daughter of his donkey driver.

The food could provide some adventures in grim eating. The physician Galen told of detecting a human finger bone in a traveling companion's stew.

Travel abroad was the thing to do. The Romans traveled to Greece and Asia Minor, where guides steered them among historic scenes. Greek cities put on special festivals to attract the tourists from Rome.

Such trips could prove overly expensive. One Roman tourist became so desperately broke he considered turning gladiator or fighting lions to pay off his vacation debts.

For the better Roman credit risk, however, banks issued travelers' checks but charged 12 per cent of their value.

Women proved a problem on the Roman highways. Their litters, traveling at leisurely pace, so clogged the roads that Caesar ruled that only mothers and women over 40 could use them.

Caesar also had a downtown traffic problem. Two thousand years before New York was born, he banned parking in Rome's crowded garment district.

Prices Chopped For Sale

No George! Not the tree, the price tag.

That is the cry at Corte Madera shopping center where merchants are thinking about George Washington and trying their best to come close to the prices of goods, barter and trade in his day.

The merchants are not chopping down any cherry trees; they are hewing prices for tomorrow's sale. The big day will continue at all stores until 9 p.m.

Lou Ribberberger, manager of F. W. Woolworth Co., was picked as the man most able to demonstrate the price chopping effort. That is because he developed a good swing several years ago.

Ribberger started his adult life as a professional ball player. He has many years of minor league training behind his swing.

Cutting Down On Rye Whisky

BALTIMORE (AP)—Marylanders are drinking less rye whisky than they once did, but they still account for about 90 per cent of the nation's rye consumption.

Purchases by liquor wholesalers in the state show a 16 per cent drop from a year ago in rye consumption.

Once a traditional pride of the Maryland gentleman, rye now is giving way to (1) blended whisky, (2) straight bourbon, (3) scotch and (4) Canadian whisky, in that order.

Try Rain Dance, Farmers Told

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Farmers: If all else fails try a rain dance.

The Onondaga Indians did just that on their reservation here.

Results: Rain the following day on drought-stricken Onondaga County.

Employee-Thieves Take Some $2 Billion

NEW YORK (UPI)—The average employee thief during 1961 helped to steal an estimated two billion dollars from U.S. companies, according to a case-history study made recently by one of the nation's major business-security and research organizations.

Only 25 per cent of these thefts are cash, the other 75 per cent in merchandise. The average thief is in his early thirties, father of two children and a member of two or more social organizations, the survey disclosed.

Fringe Benefits Up For U.S. Employees

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Fringe benefits really are substantial. They averaged $1,254 per U.S. employee in 1961, according to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

This was 24.9 per cent of payroll and averaged $122 higher than the figure in a similar survey of 1,120 firms by the chamber in 1959.

Munich Can Be Surprise Gem In Any Visit To Germany

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—This capital of warm and friendly Bavaria can turn out to be one of the surprise gems of a visit to Germany, or to Europe, for that matter.

Surprise number one is its size—more than 1.1 million persons. To someone across the Atlantic, it is easy to think of Munich as one of those small picture postcard towns that is known so well because of its continual thrust into history.

And for those familiar with the name Munich only through its best-known export to the United States—its beer—it might be hard to envision this metropolis as anything more than a common town, if you hold to the belief that beer is the drink of the common man.

But just as beer is a classic of the brewer's art—gushed forth from seven giant breweries and much loved in Germany, as well as abroad—Munich also is the cultural center of southern Germany.

By day there are more than enough museums, art galleries and treasures to occupy the culturally minded tourist for weeks. By night, its mammoth beer halls, such as the famed Hofbrauhaus or the Mathaser, are alive with friendly people, sitting at big tables and soaking in both the music of Bavarian bands and light or dark beer from full-liter stone mugs.

A stranger is always welcome to sit down in an empty seat, and more often than not the natives will try to communicate, if only by means of a "prosit"—toast. Almost as famous as the beer, are the Munich white sausages and the long accordion-cut white radishes, liberally laced with salt, that go with the drink.

Munich, too, is the home of probably the world's biggest "beer hust," the Oktoberfest, which runs for just over two weeks beginning in late September. The towering statue of "Bavaria," the symbol of this southern state, then looks down onto a sprawling fair set up on the Theresienwiese which attracts hundreds of thousands of visitors every year.

A great deal of Munich was destroyed in World War II, but many of its historic buildings were either spared or have been restored.

The richest and most startling rococo theater to be seen anywhere — the Residenz Theater designed by Francois Cuvillies—is one of the city's irreplaceable treasures that escaped war damage because the unbelievably ornate wood carved panels were removed and stored. Now replaced, the crimson, gold and white of this four-tiered opera house (with its wood-carved drapes that look every bit like velvet), is again delighting even people who are unimpressed normally by intricate design work.

Munich is a rococo heaven. On the outskirts of the city stands Nymphenburg, the one-time summer residence of the rulers of Bavaria, and its adjacent buildings, including Amalienburg, which has been labeled the most perfect expression of German rococo art. The main palace with its endless gold work, frescoes and paintings serves to prepare the visitor for Amalienburg, set a short walk away through a park such as is seen otherwise only in the movies. Amalienburg, once a hunting lodge, holds the viewer entranced in its silver and blue trimmed Hall of Mirrors and its silver on yellow decorated Hunting Room, and even in the glazed tile kitchen, where the tiles depict religious scenes.

Museums range from the German Museum of Science and Technology, a sprawling collection of buildings on an island in the Isar River in which the visitor must walk 6 miles just to see all the exhibits, to the Alte Pinakothek, one of the leading art galleries of Germany with its collection of 14th to 18th Century European paintings.

Even the Town Hall collects crowds, especially at 11 a.m. each day when the glockenspiel comes alive, and brightly colored figures move to the sound of the bells in the neo-gothic tower.

Never Set Foot On British Soil

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—After 44 years, Larry A. Cassidy still hasn't succeeded in setting foot on English soil.

He spent five months there in World War I, all the time in five hospitals.

This year he sailed on a cruise for England, but 24 hours from that shore he was stricken and taken ashore in an ambulance.

Five days later Cassidy was returned to the boat by ambulance and sent home.

Deepening River To Lower Lake

EASTMAN, QUE. (CP)—Work has begun on a $300,000 public works project to lower the level of Silver Lake near here, by deepening the river that drains it.

Glen Brown, Quebec legislature member, says the project will reclaim between 5,000 and 10,000 acres and halt spring floods.

This Test Shows If You Will Be Success In Lifetime

NEW YORK (UPI)—Perhaps you have heard it said that gifted persons are born, not made.

"Not so," says W. Clement Stone, who regards himself as a self-made man.

Stone, president of the Combined Insurance Company of America, of Chicago, civil leader, philanthropist and author, has written a new book attempting to prove that anyone can make a million dollars—if he really sets his mind to it.

In his book, "The Success System That Never Fails," Stone asks his readers to take a test to determine their potentials.

Here is an abbreviated version of the test:

1. Do you use a dictionary to look up every word you read and do not understand? ——

2. Do you believe you are meeting or solving your problems as well as possible? ——

3. Do you find you adapt yourself satisfactorily to your environment? ——

4. Do you think you could or should learn to adjust better to persons, places, situations and things? ——

5. Do you generally approach new situations and problems with a positive mental attitude? ——

6. Do you try to solve problems by applying what you have learned through experience? ——

7. Do you understand the meaning of the term "know-how"? ——

8. Do you understand that intelligence is capacity, not knowledge or skill, but the ability to develop a skill? ——

9. Are you aware that intelligence is not a guarantee of success? ——

10. Do you have the ability to assimilate and retain the information that is made available to you? ——

11. Do you have a fertile imagination? ——

12. Are you aware that an imagination can be developed? ——

13. Can you recognize when you have offended someone? ——

14. Do you do something about it when you have offended another? ——

15. Do you engage in wholesome self-criticism in an effort to improve yourself? ——

16. Do you have self-confidence? ——

17. Are you strongly motivated to try to succeed in what you are doing? ——

18. Everyone has some special ability or capacity for a definite kind of work. Have you found yours? ——

19. Are you aware of particular activities for which you have a natural liking? ——

20. Have you ever tried to invent or originate anything? ——

If you have written "Yes" after every question, you are a gifted person, in Stone's scorebook. If you answered "Yes" to only half the questions, go to work on the areas in which the replies are "No." If the "Noes" outnumber the "Yesses," it is time for a complete self-reevaluation, Stone says.

"Now, go to work on yourself," he recommends. "Take the test again in six months. Any improvement will mean that you are on the way—you have found the access road to the superhighway to Easy Street."

How We Learn Of Moon

DALLAS (UPI)—Scientists know the moon's surface is not green cheese but they need to know a lot more to prepare for America's first lunar explorers. Trying to find out what the first men on the moon will encounter is the job of Dr. Philip Oetking.

Oetking is a selenologist for Ling-Temco-Vought, one of the nation's leading spacecraft industries. A selenologist is a sort of lunar geologist and observation is about the only way to get information.

The moon has been extensively photographed and mapped, Oetking said, and the most recent method of getting information about the moon's surface is from radio astronomy.

Galileo fashioned a telescope 350 years ago to provide the first data on the moon. As better telescopes were developed and astronomy developed as a science, astronomers tended to lose interest in the moon in their quest for knowledge of new stars, planets and galaxies.

"We are almost around the corner from landings on the moon today," Oetking said. "Interest has, of necessity, increased."

What scientists need to know most is what the moon's surface is composed of and what its atmosphere is like.

The most important question to be answered is, does the moon's surface have a water supply?

Man must have water if he is to remain on the moon for any extended period.

"One of the most interesting things about selenology is that everyone is advancing theories," Oetking said. "We know that within a very few years, these theories will be proved or disproved.

How Feuds Begin Among Neighbors

MIAMI (AP)—If Mrs. Rita Oglesby was mad when Cal Rosenbaum parked his car on her trash pile, it was nothing compared to Rosenbaum's rage when Mrs. Oglesby tossed her trash in his car.

So Rosenbaum had Mrs. Oglesby arrested for malicious mischief and hauled off to jail, where she was released to her attorney.

"That wasn't very neighborly," she said of Rosenbaum, who lives across the street.

Justice Of Peace Wants To Be Slender

TORRINGTON, Wyo. (AP) — Justice of Peace Lee Hastings has his own special reason for seeking re-election to a third term.

He explained "My sole purpose for running is that I'm on a strict diet and the salary of the office will keep me there."

Man's Best Reflection

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—If your dog is fat or nervous, take a good look at yourself.

Francis T. Candlin, a Denver veterinarian, told the American Veterinary Assn. convention that dogs' ailments mirror those of their owners.

"Most nervous people have nervous dogs," Candlin said. "And many fat people give the dog a snack every time they snack."

'Face Looks Familiar, But I Don't Know . . ."

MEMPHIS (AP)—A political candidate with headquarters in a hotel found himself short of cash. So, standing beneath the huge photographs that display his likeness all over the lobby, he asked a clerk if he could cash a check.

"Why yes," said the clerk, examining his signature. "Do you have any identification?"

Meter Swatters Often Lose Time

WICHITA (AP)—Don't swat the meter.

City traffic engineer Paul Graves says, "We have more trouble with parking meters caused by persons using slugs or placing a coin in the meter and then hitting it to try to get more time.

"The funny thing about it is that most of the time they get less time."

Why 'Bad Lands'?

BISMARCK, N.D. (UPI)—North Dakota's infamous "Bad Lands" were not named for the equally infamous outlaws who once escaped into them, but from the fact that the rough, rocky terrain impeded travel.

Aquatic Good Deed By Three Young Men

CHATTANOOGA (AP)—Three young men in an outboard motor boat are credited with preventing a serious collision between a runaway barge and an excursion boat carrying a party of older persons.

The youths scooted their boat between the two larger vessels, heading the barge off with its wake—then sped off to remain anonymous.

Between Runways?

CINCINNATI (AP) — Arvin Saunders, manager of Greater Cincinnati Airport, also is a farm manager. The airport has 146 acres of pavement, but it also has 2,100 acres of farmland on which burley tobacco and blue grass are grown.

Astronauts Must Be Down To Earth At Home

HOUSTON (UPI) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration likes its space-probing adventurers, the astronauts, to be down to earth in their home lives.

That's why, when screening applicants, psychiatrists at the Aerospace School of Medicine in San Antonio ask more than 800 questions, many aimed at the candidate's domestic affairs.

There are 566 questions that can be answered yes or no. Some questions are asked more than once—sometimes in different phrasing. Some are double checks against others.

So far, all the astronauts are married men. The psychiatrists also are interested in the space men's wives.

"Ask a man enough questions about himself and you find out all about his wife," say the psychiatrists.

Here are some of the questions picked at random:

Did you like school?

What worries you?

Do you panic if closed up in a small room?

Do you often feel guilty or inadequate?

Do you occasionally cry?

Are you much more orderly, precise and perfectionistic than most other people?

Does criticism upset you?

Do you have spells of uncontrollable laughing?

Do you bruise easily?

Are you sometimes dissatisfied with your relationship with your wife?

Alcohol Doesn't Help Out Cows

ELK RIVER, Minn. (AP)—A shot or two of alcohol doesn't help cows in their jobs any more than it helps you in yours.

Neither do tranquilizers for that matter, according to scientists at the Nutrena Mills research farm here.

Some livestock experts have claimed that alcohol speeded development of a cow's stomach organisms and that tranquilizers boosted milk production.

Daughter Knows What She Wants In A Man

NEWTON, Iowa (AP) — Glen Wehrman told his 6-year-old daughter Ann she couldn't have a kitten, because she already had a dog.

The little girl looked steadily at her father, then said: "I'm going to grow up and marry a man who will let me have a cat."

10-Ton Bell At Falls

Teen Speeders Confined To Home

ROWLEY, Mass. (AP)—Rowley's new police chief, Robert G. Hardy, has what he feels is a sure-fire system of dealing with teen-age speeders.

He takes away their driving licenses and insists they stay home evenings for 15 days.

The Sho(e)maker

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Monte E. Shomaker is president of the National Shoe Manufacturers Association. Shomaker started with Brown Shoe Co. in 1919 while attending high school.

15-Year-Old Masters Art Of Harry Houdini

MORRISTOWN, N. J. (AP)—A 15-year-old boy is mastering the art of the late Harry Houdini, the greatest escape artist of all time.

Ronald Kolb makes escape from a mail sack while handcuffed and tied look like child's play. His friends strap him in a leather and steel harness, and bind him with 50 feet of heavy chain which is then padlocked, and it takes him less than 25 second to get out.

Lions Set Show Time Once More

It's show time again in Corte Madera and the big annual stage production sponsored by the Corte Madera Lions Club, with a cast of over 100 is in rehearsal.

The show is scheduled for appearance March 15, 16, 22 and 23 and will be seen at the Corte Madera Recreation Auditorium.

"Favela" is the name of the new presentation and will again be produced and directed by Mrs. Gigi Sill, who was responsible for last year's "Gigi Presents" production of "Carnaval in Rio" which was a resounding success and a sellout. Gigi was formerly a TV, stage and theater personality in her native Rio de Janeiro.

All music, dance and songs in the show are original and Brazilian.

The play tells the story of a particular group of Brazilians called "Favelados" who reside in the Favela region of Rio located on the hills surrounding Rio. They are poor but highly creative people who are contestants for cash awards in the famous carnaval parades.

Cast and crew of "Favela" are all volunteers, drawing from amateur and professional, acting and dance talents, from Marin and Sonoma.

Proceeds from the show go to community tennis courts to be constructed in the new Corte Madera Town Park.

"There are many good dance and skit parts yet open. A skit director and dance choreographer are also needed. Interested volunteers can drop in an any Wednesday evening rehearsal at 7 p.m., at the Corte Madera Recreation Center," Mrs. Sill said.

Tickets and reservations for the performance can be made through any member of the Corte Madera Lions Club.

The evening performance is a complete "evening out" for the adults. Following the show portion there is dancing to Lou Malvino and his orchestra, plus cabaret entertainment, refreshments plus a buffet—all in an exciting Brazilian manner.
